U.S., British Leaders May Confer Soon

Nuclear Force Argument Sets Up Possibility

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—A sharp debate between the United States and Britain over formation of a new type of nuclear force is opening up the possibility of an early meeting between President Kennedy and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

Macmillan, who is grappling with domestic political difficulties, has been pressing for a meeting with Kennedy during the President's trip to Europe in June. For various reasons, Kennedy apparently has been reluctant to change his travel plans though he has expected all along to see Macmillan later in the year.

JFK Goes To Europe In June

The timely sharpening of the argument over the U.S. proposal for a multinational North Atlantic Treaty Organization nuclear force now indicates, however, that in the interest of getting an accord, if other and technical issues can be resolved, the President would agree to an earlier meeting.

Kennedy will visit Italy, West Germany and Ireland in the last 10 days of June. His schedule would take him around France.

Aides have said that one reason he had thought it wiser not to see Macmillan on this trip was that a visit to England would seem too much like a deliberate snubbing of French President Charles de Gaulle. If there was a strong reason for Kennedy to see Macmillan, however, this would not necessarily be true.

Polaris Talks Next Week

U.S.-British talks on the proposed Polaris missile force are due to get under way in London next week. A high official said they would be "nuts and bolts talks" designed on the American side to try to assure British experts that the U.S. proposal for a NATO Polaris force is workable and worth the money.

In the House of Lords in London Britain's first lord of the Admiralty announced Tuesday that U.S. Adm. Claude V. Ricketts will arrive in London next Tuesday.

Diplomatic authorities here confirmed reports from London that the British government has directed a series of tough, skeptical questions to the United States. If the British reject the proposal it will have very little chance of survival.

Teacher Strike Closes Schools At Gary, Ind.

GARY, Ind. (UPI)—Fourteen hundred teachers went on strike Tuesday and forced all public schools to close in Indiana's second largest city.

The union teachers manned picket lines instead of classrooms and 45,000 students in 43 schools either stayed home or were dismissed shortly after the opening bell.

While the striking pedagogues paraded at school doors with picket signs and umbrellas in a light drizzle, state, city, school and union officials huddled in a round of emergency sessions in an effort to end the walkout.

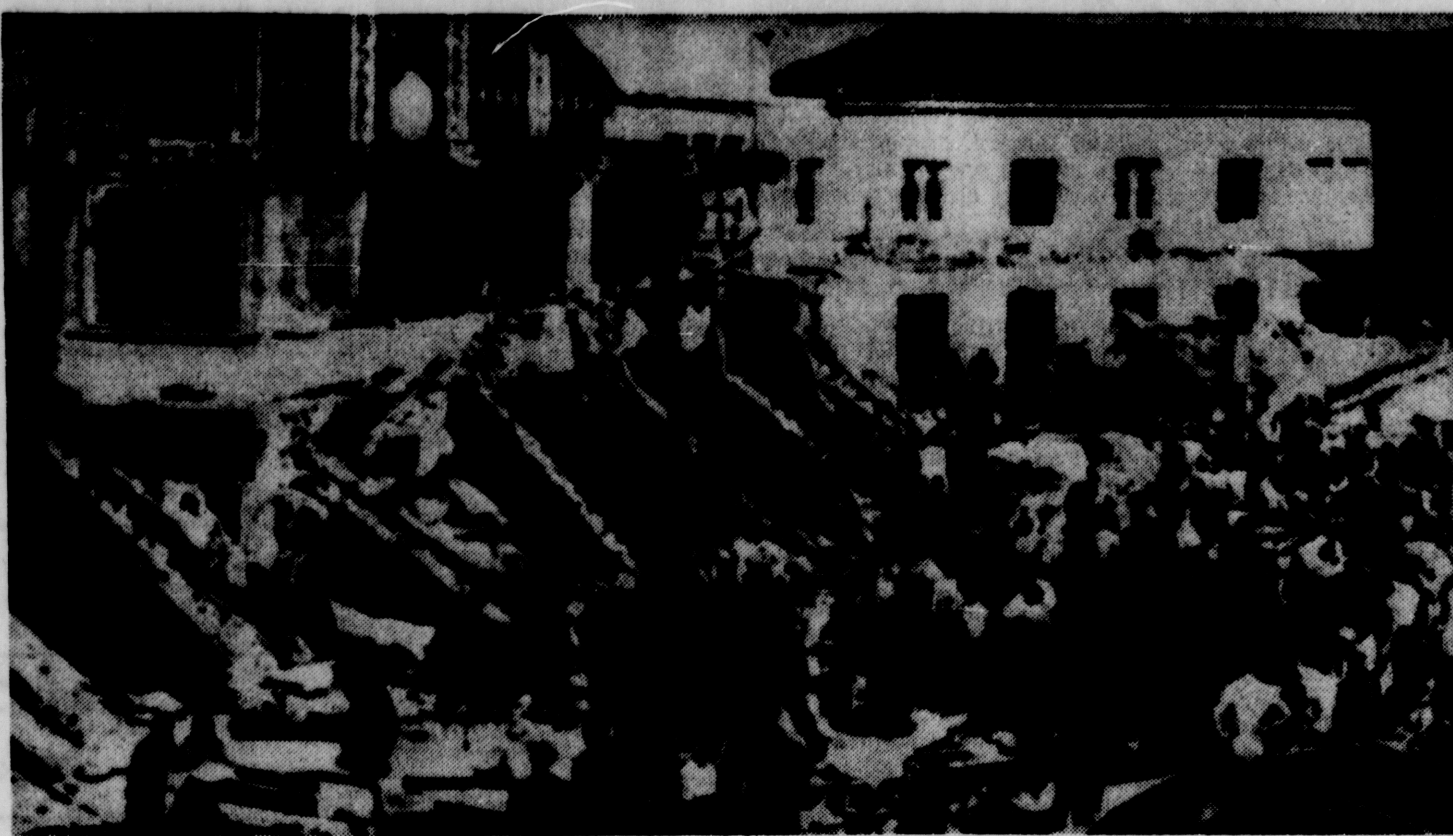

State Labor Commissioner Robert Butler, sent to Gary by Gov. Matthew Welsh, said he hoped to arrange a peace meeting between the school board and leaders of American Federation of Teachers (AFT) Local 4. Butler said he was optimistic a settlement could be reached Tuesday night.

The school board, which refused to recognize the union as collective bargaining agent and balked at Mayor John Visclosky's demand that it resign, scheduled a meeting Tuesday night.

School board President De Le Roy Bingham called on the union teachers to "continue teaching while negotiating."

West Will Make New Try To End Atom Stalemate

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan said Tuesday he and President Kennedy are on the verge of making an important new approach to Soviet Premier Khrushchev for breaking the nuclear test ban deadlock.

The prime minister told the House of Commons that in the next day or two he and the President hope to complete details of their latest letter to the Soviet leader. This correspondence has been under study in London and Washington.

The three world leaders have been engaged in letter writing for some time. Little has come to light about this correspondence except that proposals for nailing down a test ban have been mentioned prominently. It is understood the letters also contain hints of a possible summit conference.

Macmillan observed the rule that letters between government leaders are confidential. Under questioning, he refused to discuss details of earlier Western letters or whether the Soviet leader in response had shown any desire to meet at the summit.

For almost five years the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union have negotiated at Geneva without producing a nuclear test ban agreement.

Those talks in the Swiss city, however, have narrowed the problem to the point where a test ban is regarded as the most fruitful field for an East-West understanding.

Basically, the argument now centers on the number of on-site inspections of suspicious earth tremors needed to prevent cheating. The United States and Britain want seven a year. The Soviet Union has offered three.

Singer Julie London Gives Birth To Twins

VAN NUYS, Calif. (UPI)—Singer Julie London, wife of musician Bobby Troup, Tuesday gave birth to identical twin boys at Valley Presbyterian Hospital.

Both Miss London, 36, and the twins were reported "doing fine." Troup and Miss London have one other child, Kelly, 1, by their marriage. She also has two daughters by her previous marriage to actor-producer Jack Webb.

Troop Carrier Crashes; 69 Aboard Walk Away

MANHATTAN, Kan. (UPI)—A four-engine Standard Airways troop carrier crashed and burst into flames Tuesday at Municipal Airport. The 64 soldiers and five crew members walked from the fiery wreckage.

Five persons were injured, none critically. The Army identified three injured as soldiers and a local hospital treated two crewmembers for bruises.

Pilots who witnessed the crash said it appeared the propellers reversed and the Constellation flopped to the ground during a landing approach.

The plane dropped about 25 to 50 feet into soft ground at the end of the runway, Airport Manager Nick Dellere said. The occupants fled militarily from the shattered craft seconds before it exploded into flames.

Jackson Flareup Negro Sit-In Erupts In Racial Violence

Judge Orders Ole Miss To Admit Negro

By The Associated Press

Protests against rigid segregation barriers at Jackson, Miss., were marked Tuesday with intermittent violence at a lunch-counter sit-in.

While trouble flared at Jackson, a federal judge at Biloxi, Miss., ordered a Negro, Cleve McDowell, admitted to the University of Mississippi Law School for the summer term beginning June 5.

In Birmingham, Ala., another federal judge told school officials that he will order them to draw up a desegregation plan unless they apply a pupil-assignment law this fall without discrimination.

Battering fists and other violence failed to break up the lunch-counter sit-in at Jackson. White persons and Negroes taking part in the sit-in clung stubbornly to their lunch-counter stools until the store was closed, two hours after the uproar had started.

Memphis Norman, 21, a Negro of Wiggins, Miss., was knocked from a stool and beaten severely.

The flare of violence at the Woolworth store came after five pickets, three Negroes and two white persons, had been arrested on downtown streets.

Police made no effort to remove the sit-in demonstrators or to control the jeering crowd that besieged them, squirting mustard and catsup from plastic bottles taken from the counter.

Medgar Evers, head of the Mississippi branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said the Justice Department had been notified of the sit-in violence.

In Biloxi, U.S. Dist. Judge Sidney Mize ruled that McDowell, 21, should be admitted to the University of Mississippi Law School.

Mize, a graduate of the Ole Miss law school, originally had rejected Negro James H. Meredith's plea for enrollment in the university. Higher courts reversed his decision, and Meredith was admitted last fall.

Breathitt Wins Over Chandler In Ky. Primary

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI)—Edward T. Breathitt, Jr., a young attorney virtually unknown in Kentucky one year ago, scored a stunning upset victory Tuesday night by defeating A. B. (Happy) Chandler in the Democratic primary for governor.

It was only the second defeat for Chandler, a former governor, in a statewide race during a political career that has spanned three decades.

With 1,507 of the state's 3,017 precincts reported, Breathitt had 164,339 to 132,476 votes for Chandler.

Breathitt supporters predicted that the plurality would reach 60,000.

Breathitt, 38, of Hopkinsville, began his campaign more than a year ago, and had worked vigorously ever since.

He began by quietly visiting local county chairmen and proved to the current state administration that he had the potential to win the race.

Then Breathitt stumped energetically across the state. He won by playing Chandler's own game. He flailed away with Chandler, matching blow for blow during a bitter, sometimes mud-slinging campaign.

Chandler late Tuesday night left the log cabin of his estate at Versailles and went into his main house. It has been his custom in past elections to remain at the cabin until victory seemed certain, then drive to state campaign headquarters here.

Bill Raising Debt Ceiling Sent To JFK

Senate Switches Signals, Approves House Measure

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate switched signals and approved without change Tuesday a stopgap House bill to hike the national debt ceiling to a record $309 billion. The vote was 60 to 24.

The bill represents the ninth time Congress has voted to boost the debt ceiling in the last eight years. It now goes directly to the White House.

Democratic leaders worked quickly in an 11th hour reversal of strategy to avoid sending the bill back to a hostile House. The switch in tactics came after an early morning huddle of Democratic leaders at the White House.

Alarmed Treasury officials warned the leaders that unless Congress finished action promptly on the bill, a financial crisis would occur. The debt is expected to exceed the present legal limit of $305 billion by $200 million late Wednesday. Rising inexorably, it is due to soar to $305.6 billion on Friday—the first work day after the Memorial holiday.

Faced with the need for speed, the Senate decided to drop its finance committee's proposal to change the dates on the two-stage House bill.

Instead of accepting the amended version approved by the finance group last Thursday, the Senate approved the House bill without change. This avoided giving the House another crack at the measure.

The bill boosts the debt limit immediately to $307 billion upon enactment until June 30. Then it would rise temporarily to $309 billion for the months of July and August.

Before final action, the Senate defeated an amendment by the finance committee which would have extended the ceiling for a year. This vote was 46 to 38.

Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon already has said he will be back in August to ask for another increase, possibly to $320 billion.

However, the department indicated that "mounted route" or curb-side delivery service might have to be extended and maintained at new residences rather than door-to-door delivery.

Also, it said, window service in post offices on Saturdays might have to be curtailed.

Hailing the congressional agreement, which is still subject to Senate and House action, Postmaster General J. Edward Day said: "We are pleased that the Congress has recognized the need for minimum funds to maintain the 175-year tradition of mail delivery to every American and are convinced that the 580,000 postal employees will cooperate wholeheartedly with the Congress in keeping service to the highest possible level."

Sen. A. Willis Robertson, D-Va., leader of the Senate conferees who announced the compromise, said Day may be forced to come back later in the fiscal year for supplementary funds.

Day had warned that elimination of Saturday deliveries might be necessary and that new homeowners and apartment dwellers might have to pick up their mail if the $93-million House budget cut was not restored.

The Senate had accommodated him to the tune of $50,000 million for the operating fund and put back $10 million of the $23 million cut for new equipment and facilities. The compromise cut the operating restoration to $35 million and the other amount to $5.5 million.

Ecuador To Release Two U.S. Tuna Boats
WASHINGTON (UPI)—For a while Tuesday the United States appeared to be on the brink of a "tuna war," complete with an improved blockade.

The Ecuadorian navy seized two U.S. tuna boats off the South American coast and led them to port while 19 other U.S. fishing vessels plowed along in protest.

Tension was eased when Ecuador agreed to a State Department request that it release the boats while efforts are made to settle the problem peacefully. The department had appealed to all concerned to "keep their shirts on."

The dispute stems from Ecuador's claim that its territorial waters extend 200 miles out to sea and that foreign ships need an Ecuadorian license to fish any closer. The United States recognizes only a three-mile limit.

P.O. Dept. Hails Budget Accord; No Drastic Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Post Office Department said Tuesday it won't have to make any drastic cutback in mail deliveries, after all, as a result of a compromise budget worked out by Senate and House conferees.

Restoration of $35 million of the $69 million which the House cut in post office operating funds prompted the department to cancel plans for major dollar-pinch curtailment of postal services. But there will have to be "some selective service curtailments" and these haven't been decided, the announcement added.

The department said it will have enough money under the compromise "to maintain basic postal services for the next fiscal year," which starts July 1. It said 6-day-a-week deliveries to homes and offices will not have to be cut, as feared, and there is no longer danger that the 1.3 million new addresses expected to be added in the year ahead might not have the postman stopping by.

However, the department indicated that "mounted route" or curb-side delivery service might have to be extended and maintained at new residences rather than door-to-door delivery.

Doctors Note Only Token Improvement

Pontiff Suffering From Abnormal Stomach Growth

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Further weakened by internal bleeding that brought him close to death, Pope John XXIII, 81, lay closely watched early Wednesday as Roman Catholics around the world waited and prayed.

Some slight improvement in the pontiff's grave condition was reported during the night, but little hope was held for any significant change for the better.

"Only a miracle can save him," said some inside the Vatican. The Pope himself was described as resigned to death if God wishes.

The Vatican disclosed the pontiff has an abnormal stomach growth and he was said to be suffering pain.

Specialists and medical attendants hovered at the bedside of the Pope after several hemorrhages Monday.

Three doctors attended the Pope during that critical period and were reported to have administered a massive blood transfusion to enable the pontiff to overcome the crisis.

Hemorrhaging Subsidies
One report said the Pope had been given blood in three separate transfusions. He was said to be in pain, but the doctors were reported to believe that the crisis would not recur during the night.

A statement printed in the Vatican paper L'Osservatore Romano said hemorrhaging had subsided. It did not say the loss of blood had been halted.

The statement used the term "gastric heteroplasia" to describe his ailment. That could be a cancer or tumor, benign or malignant. Aside from disclosure of the nature of the ailment, the statement also disclosed the Pope has been ill for a year.

It was a carefully worded statement that did not speak of crisis but revealed the Pope himself was aware he had been at death's door.

"If God wishes the sacrifice of the person of the Pope," he was quoted as saying, "let it be that such a sacrifice shall succeed in bringing abundant favors on the Ecumenical Council, on the Holy Church, and on mankind which aspires for peace."

Death Would Suspend Council
Pope John's words indicated a concern for the future of his Ecumenical Council, which would be suspended on his death. A new Pope could leave it suspended or reconvene it.

At one time during the tense morning, Vatican sources said, his private secretary, the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Loris Capovilla, left the papal apartment in tears and cried to those outside: "Pray! Pray!"

His condition had taken a dramatic turn for the worse. Medical personnel were in and out of his apartment.

His Rome physician, Dr. Piero Mazzoni, had spent the seventh night in a row with him.

Suddenly he summoned the Pope's other doctor, Antonio Gasbarrini. Then a third was called in—Dr. Pietro Valdioni, one of Italy's leading surgeons.

After three hours, Gasbarrini and Valdioni left. Mazzoni remained.

Tension eased, with the crisis apparently overcome and hemorrhaging under control, at least temporarily.

Copter Ocean Flight Delayed By Weather

GOOSE BAY, Labrador (AP)—A U.S. Air Force helicopter was weathered in here Tuesday on a 3,511-mile flight to Paris.

Air Force sources said the twin-engine copter would take off Wednesday either for Frobisher Bay on Baffin Island, or Sandre Stormford in Greenland, depending on the weather. Fog was reported in Greenland Tuesday.

The craft, making the second helicopter flight across the Atlantic, left Otis Air Force Base, Cape Cod, Mass., Monday. The three-man crew had hoped to reach Paris Friday.

Aboard were Capt. John D. Arthur, 36, Chester, Pa.; William A. Scott III, 31, Cambridge, Md.; and William B. Lehman, 32, Dallas, Tex.

House Unit OKs Resale Tax Cut

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The House Ways & Means Committee voted Tuesday to slash income taxes on profits made from sale of stocks, bonds, houses or other real estate.

The tax savings would apply only to property which has been held by the owner for a period of at least three years. Present taxes would continue to apply to profits from sale of property sold after a shorter holding period.

The reduction, effective next Jan. 1, would amount to a minimum of 22 or 40 per cent depending on the taxpayer's tax bracket.

The actual savings would be larger than that for most taxpayers because levies on the capital gains would be reduced still further by cuts in income tax rates which the committee plans to approve later.

The committee is drafting a compromise version of President Kennedy's big tax-reduction and revision program.

Brandt To Visit U.S.

BERLIN (AP)—Willy Brandt, mayor of West Berlin, is to visit the United States next month, his office announced Tuesday. He will address the Council for Foreign Relations in New York June 10 and the Rotary Club in St. Louis two days later.

record high of March and promises to remain there for several months more, the Labor Department said Tuesday.

The consumer price index edged up 0.1 per cent in March to 106.2 per cent, one per cent over the level of April 1962. This means it cost an average family $10.62 to purchase what $10 would buy during the 1957-59 base period.

Ewan Clague, director of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, said he sees nothing to indicate any major changes in the index in the months ahead.

"There are enough forces on the downside that we can see already to make us believe they will counteract forces for increases," he said.

Housewives got both good and bad news in the figures for April. Good news was a 0.3 per cent decrease in average food prices.

Beef and pork prices dropped 3.5 per cent with beef reaching its lowest level since 1957.

Clague said the decline was due in part to a delayed reaction from the farmers' strike of last fall, with prices dipping as farmers sell animals they withheld from the market during the strike.

Bad news for consumers came in a 2.2 per cent rise in the cost of fruits and vegetables, caused primarily by a 4.0 per cent increase in fresh fruit prices.

A major factor, Clague said, was the severe cold weather that hit citrus areas in Florida and California last winter.

The recent jump in sugar prices will have little immediate effect on over-all food prices, Clague predicted, although it probably will have a small effect over a period of months.

Congress Drive For Rights Bill Due This Year

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, Mont., said Tuesday after a White House conference that an attempt will be made to push a civil rights bill through Congress this year.

At the same time, there was some indication that President Kennedy might be considering an address to the nation on civil rights before an attempt is made next month to integrate the University of Alabama.

There were these other developments as Washington showed increasing concern over what Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., called the "rising tide of wrath" in racial relations.

—Celler announced that he hoped to complete work on a civil rights measure soon after his House Judiciary Committee concludes hearings on the question June 13. The committee has more than 100 proposals before it.

—Plans were disclosed for the President to make another trip into the South next autumn, shortly after the start of the fall school term. He accepted an invitation to speak and receive an honorary degree at Georgia Tech in Atlanta on Oct. 7. The occasion will be the 75th anniversary of the school.

Stripper's Attorneys Score Major Victory

BALTIMORE (AP)—The attorney for a 21-year-old strip-tease dancer charged with killing a Filipino doctor scored a major victory at the woman's murder trial Tuesday.

Attorney Nelson Kandel argued successfully that two major statements taken by police from the defendant, Maxine Gross, should not be admitted into evidence because they were not voluntary.

Arguments on the matter of introducing the statement took up most of the afternoon on the second day of the strip-tease dancer's murder trial in Youth Court.

Miss Gross, whose professional name is Vicki Storm, is charged with killing Dr. DeoGracias Castro DeLeon Jr., 29, of Manila, in a Baltimore hotel last Nov. 25.

Navy Narrows Thresher Hunt

PORTSMOUTH, N.H. (AP)—The Navy Tuesday narrowed the area of its search for the sunken nuclear attack submarine Thresher with the recovery of 15 small boxes of metal rings from the ocean floor.

The Navy said the parts had been recovered Monday by a research ship working "draglines in the area of prime interest."

The recovered parts were described as common to many Navy ships.

Racial Peace Talks Set

CAMBRIDGE (AP)—The Maryland Commission on Interracial Problems and Relations has accepted an invitation to negotiate racial problems in Cambridge.

Parren J. Mitchell, executive secretary, said he and commission members will meet next Tuesday with white and Negro leaders in an effort to eliminate the stalemate.

The acceptance was communicated shortly after the commission received a request for help from the Cambridge Committee on Interracial Understandings. Its attempts to bring about a solution apparently have failed.

After meeting in Cambridge Monday night, the committee issued this statement:

"The committee feels that purposeful negotiations are impossible at this time because of constant disorderly picketing."

Mrs. Gloria Richardson, chairman of the Cambridge Non-Violent Action Committee and leader of the local integration movement, said she was pleased that the state agency will now take an active part.

Her group's aims are integration of recreational and restaurant facilities and quickened school desegregation.

Russian Rockets Soar 8,000 Miles

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union announced Tuesday it had fired a series of 1963-model rockets 8,000 miles down the Pacific May 18 and 25.

A Tass statement did not say how many rockets, described as improved versions of space-object boosters, had been launched nor precisely where they had landed.

It claimed the rockets had hit a preset target but did not specify which one.

Tuesday's announcement said it was once again safe for shipping to cross the target areas named May 12.

Protestant Council To Honor Kennedy

NEW YORK (AP)—The Protestant Council of the City of New York will present its 1963 Distinguished Service Award to President Kennedy, the first non-Protestant so honored by the council.

Announcing the selection of Kennedy, a Roman Catholic, for the award, George Champion said Tuesday that the President will receive it at a dinner here Nov. 8.

Champion, board chairman of Chase Manhattan Bank, won last year's award.

The award recognizes service to the cause of human rights and democratic freedoms.

Real Estate Appraiser Quizzed At Fraud Trial

BALTIMORE (AP) — A defense witness who estimated the value of a tract of land in Southern Maryland at about $11.3 million was cross-examined for more than two hours Tuesday by a government prosecutor.

The property figures in the U.S. District Court trial of two former Democratic congressmen and two savings and loan promoters. The four have pleaded innocent to charges of conspiracy to defraud the government and conflict of interest.

The witness, Charles L. Hanowell, a real estate appraiser from Arlington, Va., said he arrived at the value estimate after studying the 7,937-acre tract near Waldorf in Charles County.

U.S. Atty. Joseph D. Tydings attempted to show through cross-examination that the $11.3 million estimate was much too high. He said the prices at which other land in the area was selling were much lower.

Hanowell was one of two appraisers called by defense attorney Edward Bennett Williams in an effort to show that $250,000 received by former congressman Frank W. Boykin of Alabama from savings and loan interests was part of a bona fide land transaction.

The government contends that the $250,000 was part of a deal in which Boykin used his congressional influence to try to block a mail-fraud prosecution against J. Kenneth Edlin, a Maryland savings and loan operator.

On trial along with Boykin and Edlin are former Maryland congressman Thomas F. Johnson and William L. Robinson, an associate of Edlin.

Testimony disclosed that a company headed by Boykin received the $250,000 payment from Edlin firms in 1961 in the transfer of two large tracts of land. Defense witnesses have said that the two checks of $125,000 each were down payments on the property.

Johnson's defense is that the money he received from Edlin savings and loan firms was for legal services, and not for improper use of his congressional influence.

Arrives Home Early

ALGIERS (UPI) — Premier Ahmed Ben Bella arrived in Algiers from Cairo Tuesday, 24 hours in advance of his scheduled return.

Earlier, the minister of information had announced that Ben Bella would return Wednesday.

Assurances Help To Drop Sugar Prices

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Department of Agriculture said Tuesday its assurances that the United States has plenty of sugar available has helped bring down domestic sugar prices.

Under Secretary Charles S. Murphy in a letter to Rep. Leonor K. Sullivan, D-Mo., chairman of the House Subcommittee on Consumer Affairs repeated these assurances and added:

"Since this fact became known Friday morning, it is reasonable to believe that it was a major factor in bringing about the price decline on Friday and yesterday which resulted in the domestic spot price falling in those two days by $1.40 per 100 pounds."

Mrs. Sullivan's subcommittee is investigating the sharp advances in sugar prices.

Murphy said supplies already furnished this country and those yet to be supplied under a quota system administered by the department total 10,287,000 tons, or more than 500,000 tons in excess of the record supply provided last year.

The letter said there are indications of considerable stockpiling and possibly hoarding in this country because of price advances and a tight world supply situation.

Maryland Briefs

BALTIMORE (AP) — A house painter charged with fatally stabbing a woman whose mutilated body was found in his apartment was held without bail Tuesday pending a preliminary hearing.

The accused, Howard Ellwood Clayton, 37, was given a brief hearing Monday in Municipal Court.

The decapitated body of the victim, found Sunday in the painter's apartment, has not been identified positively but tentative identification lists her as Julia Eby, about 60.

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — Mitchell Jamison, a professor in the University of Maryland Fine Arts Department, will show sketches and official films of the recovery of Astronaut Gordon Cooper at a public lecture Wednesday evening.

Jamison has just returned from the Pacific, where he witnessed and sketched the recovery as an official artist for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. His lecture will be in Drake Lecture Hall.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Allegheny Airlines has urged the Civil Aeronautics Board to approve its proposal to provide four daily commuter non-stop flights between Baltimore and New York at 24 to 42 per cent below existing rates.

Allegheny proposes to charge $10 for a one-way flight between Baltimore's Friendship Airport and New York.

The airline asked the CAB to consider the quality of the service now provided between the two cities "rather than being misled by the number of carriers holding operating rights."

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Martin Co. has completed production of its first major hardware item for the Air Force Titan III space launch rocket.

Production of a set of propellant tanks for testing the huge booster's upper stage engine was completed six days ahead of the date specified in the contract.

The 9,700-pound test tanks were delivered to the Aerojet-General Corp.'s Sacramento, Calif., plant for use in test-firing the upper stage engines.

FREDERICK (AP) — Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, will be the speaker at commencement exercises June 9 for 104 graduating seniors at Hood College.

Honorary doctor of science degrees will be given Dr. Frances O. Kelsey of the U.S. Food and Drug Administration and Dr. Muriel Meyers, associate director of Simpson Memorial Institute of University of Michigan.

Dr. Kelsey was the heroine of last year's thalidomide drug scare and Dr. Meyers is an alumna of Hood.

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Maryland Personnel Department will examine 11 applicants for the $17,500-a-year post as state welfare director.

A department spokesman said six of the applicants are Maryland residents and five live out of the state. Five of the Marylanders now hold positions with the State Department of Public Welfare or related county agencies.

Oral examinations will be given by a three-member board, and applicants will be rated without a written test. The State Board of Public Welfare will take its pick from the top five applicants.

WALDORF, Md. (AP) — A man rushed into the Waldorf Barracks of the State Police Monday and yelled: "My wife's having a baby."

Three troopers ran to the car and delivered a seven-pound girl. The mother, Mrs. Sylvia Ann Gray, 16, and the baby were taken to Physicians Memorial Hospital, where both were reported doing fine.

The troopers — Sgt. W. H. Wahl, Cpl. G. W. Carey and Trooper I.C. Joseph Summers — also were recovering.

Watershed Project's Approval Is Sought

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate Public Works subcommittee was urged Tuesday to approve immediately a watershed project for the upper Rock Creek area in Montgomery County, Md.

Local and interior department officials said at a hearing, presided over by Sen. Daniel B. Brewster, D-Md., that the project is essential, has the support of many civic organizations and has no opposition within the county.

Montgomery Judges Named

ROCKVILLE, Md. (AP) — J. Fendall Coughlan and Philip M. Fairbanks were appointed judges of Montgomery County People's Court Tuesday.

The appointments, for 10-year terms, were made by the County Council.

The council also reappointed Judge Alfred D. Noyes of the county's Juvenile Court. Noyes, 55, has been handling juvenile court cases in Montgomery County since 1946. He is a Democrat.

Coughlan, 63, and Fairbanks, 49, are former trial magistrates. Both are Republicans and were backed by the GOP majority elected to the county council last fall. Both also were on acceptable lists submitted by the local bar association and the Republican state committee.

They replace two Democrats, Judges John B. Diamond III, appointed in 1955 to an 8-year term, and J. Grahame Walker, who gave up a seat in the Maryland House of Delegates in February, 1962, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Judge Eniar B. Christianson.

The Maryland General Assembly this year extended the judgeship terms from eight to 10 years, and jumped the salary $2,000, to give each judge a salary of $17,000 a year.

ARE INSTALLED — Officers of the LaVale Century Club were installed by Mrs. Albert D. Hencox, president of the First District, GFWC at the annual dinner meeting last evening at the Cumberland Country Club. First row are Mrs. Benjamin Lewis, Jr., president of the Woman's Civic Club; Mrs. William Hoover, Century Club president; Mrs. Hencox, Mrs. George B. Newman, library director. Standing are Mrs. Stanley Slivak, second vice president; Mrs. Harold Francis, treasurer; Mrs. Edwin Miller, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Raymond Twatts, Jr., first vice president; and Mrs. Glenn Martin, recording secretary.

Auxiliary Appoints Delegates

The Ladies Auxiliary of the LaVale Volunteer Firemen elected delegates to the state and county conventions and voted to meet once a month during June, July and August. Meetings will be on the second Friday of the month.

Mrs. Gladys Burkey, ways and means committee chairman, reported on the sale of pocketbooks and soup. The auxiliary will continue to serve soup the third Wednesday of each month. The next sale will be held June 19. Anyone wishing to order soup is to call PA 2-0871 and Mrs. George Kemp will take the orders. It was voted to send two pocketbooks to the state ways and means chairman for the state convention, to be held in Ocean City June 19, 20 and 21. Delegates going from LaVale Auxiliary are Mrs. Elda Schell and Mrs. Leola Knieriem. The delegates to the county convention to be held in Oakland June 6 are Mrs. Leola McClellan, Mrs. Flo Alexander, and Mrs. Jeannetta Pritts. Alternates are Mrs. Gwen Pryer, Mrs. Elizabeth Zembower, Mrs. Susan Dick, Mrs. Anna Ferguson and Mrs. Wanda Stimler.

The meeting was held Friday evening at the fire hall, following a talk by Cromwell Zembower concerning the fire tax election which will be held June 4 at the fire hall. Prayer was offered by Mrs. Elizabeth Moody. The salute was given to the flag and routine reports were given by Mrs. Burkey and Mrs. Flo Alexander. It was announced that Mrs. Margaret Zembower has moved out of town and a new treasurer will be nominated at the next meeting, which will be June 14. A report on banquets and suppers served during May was given by Mrs. Schell.

Two invitations were received, one from Crystal Laundry, which the group will visit June 12, leaving the fire hall at 9:30 a. m. The other was from a radio station for "breakfast at the Plaza" which will be June 5 at the White Coffee Pot. Cars will leave the fire hall at 10 a. m.

A social hour concluded the meeting and refreshments were served with Mrs. Dick and Mrs. Elinor Brynor as hostesses. Eighteen members attended.

A public social will be held by the Mapleside Rod and Gun Club Friday at 6 p. m.

Mrs. Albert Windish Heads ACYWE Parents' Group

Ensembles To Give Two Concerts

Three events are scheduled for the Allegany County Youth Wind Ensemble Parents' Organization for June. They include two concerts and the business meeting in conjunction with a family picnic. The meeting has been postponed from Saturday until June 15. At that time the new officers will be introduced formally. They are Mrs. Albert Windish, president; Mrs. Robert King, vice president; and Mrs. Ralph Wilson, secretary-treasurer.

A concert will be given June 2 by the Dance Band, and Junior and Senior Ensembles. It will be at 3 p. m. in Fort Hill High School auditorium. The senior group program includes, "Border Line," Egil Smedvig; "King and I," Richard Rogers, arr. Paul Herfurth; "Flute Cocktail," Harry Simeone, trio solo accompanied by ensemble, composed of Linda Gipe, Nancy Beachley and Margo King; "Brigadoon," Frederick Loewe; "West Side Story," Leonard Bernstein; "Festival Prelude," Alfred Reed; and "1812 Overture," Peter Tchaikowsky, arranged by M. L. Lake. The Junior group program consists of "Larghetto," George Handel, arranged E. E. Harris; "Carnival for Clarinets," John Kenyon; "Folk Song Suite," R. Vaughn Williams; "Blackboard Blues," Alden Estes; "Salute to Beethoven," John Kenyon; and "Waltzing Winds," Eric Osterling.

June 15 the parents organization and the young people are to meet at the Celanese picnic grounds at 3 p. m., for a family picnic and concert. Each family is to supply its own food and place settings. There will be swimming for the ACYWE members and the parents organization will have a short business session at 4 o'clock, at which time officers will be installed. The picnic supper will be at 5:30.

The Dance Band, and Junior and Senior Ensembles will present a concert at 6:30. In case of rain the outing and concert will be held June 16, same time and place.

Farm Picnic Chairmen Named; Contest Discussed

Plans for the annual Farmers Picnic and Farm Queen contest were discussed at the luncheon meeting of the Women's Division of the Allegany County Farm Bureau, formerly known as the Associated Women. Mrs. Ruth Loar offered the invocation.

Mrs. Arch Davis conducted the business session and read a letter from Mrs. James Biglow, state president, and an invitation for the group to visit the Crystal Laundry. She also reported on the Garrett and Allegany county group meeting at Penn Alps.

All rules for the Farm Queen contest are the same as last year. The contest is open to any girl from 16 to 18 whose family derives 40 per cent or more of its income from the farm. Judging will be on educational preparation, home economics training, four or more activities, including 4-H and future ambitions, as well as general appearance, hair arrangement, poise, posture, and personality in manners.

The judging will be held in conjunction with the Farmers picnic, which is to be held July 6 at Union Grove campgrounds. The picnic will be at 6 o'clock and the contest at 8. Everyone is to bring a covered dish and place settings for the family. Mrs. Davis will be general chairman. Mrs. Roy Shryock was named chairman of beverages and will be assisted by the Town Creek Planning Group. Mrs. Clara Pollock and Mrs. Robert Appel are to bake the hams; and Mrs. Lester Rice, bread and rolls. Mrs. Charles Harvey has charge of flowers for the stage. Anyone wishing to enter the contest is to call Mrs. Davis, OV 9-5204, or Mrs. Pollock, PA 2-4912.

County Plans To Hire Civil Engineer

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday adopted a resolution providing for the employment of a county engineer under the Civil Service system.

Commissioner Robert Little Ebert read a statement as to the need for the engineer. Under the program the man hired will start at $14,000 per year and go to a maximum of $16,000 under the classified system.

Qualifications will include a degree from an engineering school as a civil engineer, 10 years experience and his duties will include working as liaison man with various county commissions and agencies and with the Roads Department.

Ebert's statement follows: The county commissioners are convinced that Allegany County has progressed to the point where a qualified civil engineer of maturity and experience is absolutely essential for the orderly development and growth of the county.

A county sewerage system is on the threshold of development with the Allegany County and LaVale Sanitary Commissions and the various incorporated communities working together. The county engineer will work directly with all interested groups to assure the greatest possible efficiency and economy.

"In the field of planning and zoning the services of the county engineer are essential in competent supervision of the various codes and regulations being adopted. His engineering background also will be most helpful to the County Health Department in problems of water, sewage, refuse disposal, etc.

"On our county roads system and in other departments we often need competent engineering studies and surveys. Most of this work must now be done by hiring outside consultants. Although such consultants still will be needed for large projects, there are dozens of smaller engineering studies throughout the county that a competent county engineer can handle.

"In addition to road studies, engineering services are needed in the re-location of the county garage, the Board of Education needs local engineering service and advice in conjunction with the school building program. The grand jury has directed the investigation of various possibilities on the creation of a County Office building. Our county jail is unsanitary and worn out.

"The Welfare Board is outgrowing its quarters. All of these problems call for the services of an able engineer. It is possible to save enough on outside consultant's fees for such projects to more than offset the cost of the engineer.

"But even more important is the engineering services and advice that will be available constantly. The county commissioners and all departments of the county government will have a competent man to refer all engineering problems as they arise.

"Admittedly, a man with the educational background, plus the ability and experience necessary to do an outstanding job in this position demands an attractive salary. We can get nothing better than what we are willing to pay for; therefore, a salary scale starting at $14,000 has been set to attract the talents we need."

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Several weeks ago my wife's relatives were invited here for dinner. After saying grace I looked up and there was a dog — a 50 pound Boxer — sitting at the table, directly across from me.

My brother-in-law proceeded to ladle out beef stew for the animal, right on the plate, as if the dog were a person. I announced flatly that I was leaving the table and would have my dinner in the bedroom. No one said a word — and I did just that.

Now my brother-in-law and sister are furious with me and they refuse to come to our home again unless I apologize. My wife is on their side. Ann, she insists I was rude and ungracious and "a poor host."

I refuse to apologize. I contend they owe ME an apology. I regret now that I was fool enough to leave my own table and allow that dog to sit there. Had I used my head I would have told them to take the animal into the backyard.

Everyone in the family is choosing up sides and having a say. Please Ann, may I have your opinion of all this?—NO DINNER COMPANION FOR A DOG

DEAR NO COMPANION: You owe no one an apology. If your sister and brother-in-law wish to allow their dog to be a guest at THEIR table, that's their business, but they should not assume that the dog is welcome at the table of relatives.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My problem is an unusual one and I need your help. I've been married for 15 years to a woman who says she is in love with me, happy as a lark, and wouldn't trade places with anyone in the world — but her suspicious nature is making my life unbearable.

About six months ago she began to ask me about the women I work with at the chemical plant. She insisted that she was able to detect an odor of perfume on my shirt and tie — and who was I seeing?

I am not seeing anyone and I have no wish to see anyone. I go straight home after work and I stay there. Two weeks ago my wife came down to the plant and sniffed around all the women to see if she could track down the

The body is at the Arnold Funeral Home.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI)—Grain futures rallied, scoring modest to strong gains on the Chicago Board of Trade Tuesday.
At the close, wheat was up 1/4 to 3/4, corn up 1/2 to 1; oats up 1/4 to 3/4; soybeans up 1/4 to 1/2.
The market developed a firm tone after the opening but trading was generally uneven. Short covering helped most grains.
Nearby wheat rallied to firm levels from an earlier start on active commission house buying. The corn market ran into some resting orders and prices advanced. Oats steadied despite good growing conditions. Rye rallied and ended with firm gains.
Rains in the Midwest prompted early selling in soybeans, but exporters bought on the decline and prices recovered.
Outside markets were mixed.

Frightening Asthma Attacks End In Minutes As New Formula Unblocks Lung Passages Fast
New Medical Formula Restores Free Breathing Without Vaccines, Shots Or Narcotics. Calms Anxiety. No Prescription Needed.

New York, N.Y. (Special)—A team of scientists has announced a new formula that stops frightening asthma attacks in minutes and unblocks lung passages fast.

Medical tests prove this formula promptly restores free breathing, so calms anxiety and relieves the worst symptoms of asthma—the straining for breath, the gasping, the wheezing, the terrible fear of suffocation.

All without vaccines, painful shots or habit-forming drugs. This formula is so safe when used as directed, it can be used without prescription in any tablet called BRONITIN.

Doctors know that when asthma strikes, breathing tubes become swollen, lung passages become blocked, no air is "trapped" inside lungs and less and less oxygen can enter. Now BRONITIN, with two asthma relieving medicines that doctors prescribe for their patients, acts quickly to open bronchial tubes and loosen the mucus that blocks lung passages. Trapped air is released and new vital oxygen enters the lungs.

The result is: free breathing is restored, tension eased and so fears are calmed in minutes. Sufferers can now look forward to respite sleep. Get BRONITIN—available at all drug stores without prescription.

Dope Peddlers Jailed
MOSCOW (UPI)—The Moscow City Court has sentenced five persons to varying prison terms up to eight years for peddling narcotics near Moscow movie theaters and restaurants.

This conviction, reported in "Medical Worker" Tuesday, followed a similar judgment handed down by a court in Orenburg and reported in "Soviet Russia" in March, but was still one of the few press admissions that narcotics addiction exists here.

Lands Role
BECKLEY, W. Va. (UPI)—Rhea Oliver Cobb, Pittsburgh, has been selected to play Stonewall Jackson this summer in West Virginia's outdoor Civil War drama, "Honey in the Rock." The play will open its third season at Grandview State Park June 22, running nightly, except Mondays, through Sept. 1.

Ursuline Academy's Graduation Event Today

Thirty-six seniors will be graduated from Ursuline Academy tonight during commencement exercises.

Rev. Ernest Horning, OFM, Cap., pastor of St. Peter and Paul's Catholic Church, will present the diplomas. The graduation exercises will begin at 7:30 p. m. in the church.

Rev. Ronin Schreiber, OFM, Cap., assistant pastor, will give the address to the graduates.

Senior Week activities began Sunday with a Mass in honor of the seniors, followed by a breakfast in the parish hall at which time the graduates were received into the Ursuline Alumnae Association.

Mrs. Casper R. Taylor Jr., president of the alumnae, received the graduates, while Miss Diane Wilson served as toastmistress.

Rev. DeSales Young, OFM, Cap., spoke at the breakfast.

Sunday evening the seniors participated in the parish's annual May procession. Four seniors, Marlene Keating, Sherrie Weisenmiller, Barbara Greise and Molly Burke, carried the statue of the Blessed Virgin.

This morning the seniors will attend a graduation Mass, followed by a faculty breakfast in which they will present a program and then be toasted by members of the Junior Class.

Members of the graduating class are as follows:

Signs To Honor Allegany Team

Signs proclaiming "Welcome to Cumberland, Home of Maryland's Class A Basketball Champions (Allegany High School)" will be erected at the east and west entrances to the city on U. S. Route 40 today.

Street Commissioner Lucile Roeder said the signs were prepared by her department on wood and will be mounted on steel posts provided through cooperation of Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan and the Police Department.

The signs are blue and white. Allegany's school colors, according to Street Superintendent Ray Valentine. They measure 30 inches by four feet, he added.

City's Vote On Fluorine Made Official

The voters' decision on fluoridation was placed in the record Monday by the Mayor and Council.

Mayor Earl D. Chaney, when certification of the vote and the charter resolution opposing fluoridation came before council, still insisted on voting "No."

However, the action was a mere formality since the electorate had already spoken and when so informed, the mayor said "Then I will decline to vote."

Actually, there was nothing official as far as council was concerned. The call for a vote by City Clerk Wallace G. Ullery was merely routine. And if everybody had said "No" fluorine would still be banned from the water supply.

Later, Finance Commissioner Frederick J. Hill asked that a Baltimore Sun editorial commenting on the Cumberland election be placed in the record.

The controversial question had been argued pro and con since 1952 when a previous administration passed a resolution authorizing the water commissioner to proceed with the mechanics of adding fluorine to the water.

This year, council had voted 4-1 to get fluorine in the water, with Water Commissioner G. Ray Light dissenting on the basis that he felt the people should vote on the issue.

Private citizens complained that the Mayor and Council were "forcing them" to accept fluorine without a chance to be heard and the Cumberland Pure Water Committee spearheaded a drive for a referendum petition which was successful.

But even then, council did not act unanimously. It had a couple of choices. It could have delayed the vote until the 1966 general elections or send it to a special vote.

When decision day came, council split 3-2 in deciding on a special election with Chaney and Hill opposing. Light, Street Commissioner Lucile Roeder and Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan favored the special election. Both Chaney and Hill based their stand on what they said was medical and dental evidence that fluorine was beneficial to the individual. Mrs. Roeder and Keegan, while saying they still thought fluorine beneficial, voted with Light in behalf of the petition for a referendum.

Monday, no one had any direct comment about the referendum's outcome which saw fluorine rejected 3,827 to 1,503.

The art of thievery, or deception, has become so much a part of declarer's equipment, that it has come to be regarded as a basic. Nevertheless, one must not overlook the circumstance that a delicate touch may be essential to the success formula. Observe how South made it work for him in today's hand.

North chose to open the bidding with one club and South made the conventional response of one no trump which announces nine to 11 high card points. When North raised to two no trump, South should have passed since he held the minimum of nine points. He persisted, however, to three no trump.

West opened the deuce of hearts. North's king won the first trick as East followed with the discouraging three. South could count eight top tricks in hearts and clubs. He might be able to develop a ninth trick in diamonds by leading twice from the dummy toward his queen-jack in the hope that East held one of the top honors in the suit.

South was not very keen on this line of play, for he knew that it would present the defenders with two opportunities to find the spade shift that would surely sink his contract. He decided instead to launch a fake attack in spades himself in an effort to throw his opponents off of the scent.

As a preliminary maneuver, he cashed North's ace and queen of clubs in the manner of one who was testing out that suit. He now shifted to a small spade and, when East played low, he put in the ten from his hand. West was in with the queen of spades and it appeared to him that South had the king-jack-ten of the suit and was endeavoring to establish his ninth trick in spades.

West promptly shifted to a low diamond as the only hope to defeat the contract. East played the ace of diamonds on which declarer dropped the eight. On the diamond continuation, South played the queen losing to the king. West continued the suit in the expectation that his partner had the jack. The declarer promptly scammed home with 10 tricks.

Whether or not West should have been taken in by his opponent is distinctly debatable; however, the declarer certainly should be applauded for giving forth his best effort.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Important Date—Make It Special For Both

Teen-agers are always being told how to behave on dates—how to be well-mannered as well as winsome. But older girls could use such advice too, if only as reminders. They know the rules and attitudes, but acquired self-confidence sometimes makes them forget them. This, I'm sorry to say, may be the truest of the career girl on her way up.

There's nothing wrong about being sure of yourself, either in business or socially, if your actions don't make too much of it. On a date, this means that you don't take the lead in a situation before giving your escort a chance, or make yourself the center of attention while he's pushed into the background.

The ancient trick of making a man feel he's special to you, even as your host for the evening, is just good manners, as well as a way to charm him. To see how well you remember it, review what you did on your last few dates.

Did you whip out of the house and into the car without giving your escort a chance to escort you and hand you in?

Did you give your order to the waiter instead of replying to his inquiry about what you wanted and letting him give it?

Did you precede him down the aisle of the theater and pick out the seats yourself, putting him in the position of stringing along?

Did you leave him standing while you chattered madly with your best friends whom he hardly knows?

Hyndman VFW Will Dedicate New Memorial

Parade, Ceremony Planned Thursday

HYNDMAN, Pa.—Oscar Jordan Post 7375, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will observe Memorial Day with a dedication of the recently completed Servicemen's Memorial followed by a street parade and appropriate ceremonies at the Soldier's Monument in the Hyndman Cemetery, according to Homer C. Shaffer, commander.

Groups planning on marching will meet in the rear of Hyndman-Londonderry High School at 9 a. m. as dedication ceremonies are expected to get underway about 9:30 a. m. The memorial is located in the front of the building and is composed of a granite slab with appropriate wording and is encased in Ohio sand stone. Completed it is a beautiful and lasting memorial, Shaffer said.

New Band To Play

The program will consist of a selection by the recently organized Community Band and invocation by Rev. Harry E. Hull, pastor of the E. U. B. Church.

Dennis R. Harbert, master of ceremonies, will then present Donald E. Leydig, chairman of the memorial committee as well as its designer and members Harlan E. Porter and Kenneth J. Minnick.

Mayor Walter F. Miller and John S. May, president of the borough council, will be presented for brief remarks. Dr. John A. Topper, president of joint Hyndman-Londonderry school board will then deliver the principal address.

Shaffer and other post officers will then hold the dedication ceremony. The ceremony will be concluded with the National Anthem by the Hyndman High School band, directed by Donald M. Wagner.

Children To March

The parade will form and led by the High School band will proceed directly to Water Street, south to Schellburg Street to Bruner's corner down through the business section and return to the Hyndman Cemetery.

Marchers will include the V.F.W., Explorer Scouts, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Community Band and the Hyndman Volunteer Fire Department and school children. Cars will be provided for the older veterans unable to march.

The cemetery program will include selections by the high school band. Invocation will be given by Rev. Clewell E. Miller, retired pastor of E. U. B. church. Shaffer will then present Rev. Willard M. White, pastor of the Methodist Church, who will deliver the principal address. Following his talk the post and auxiliary will hold a ceremony.

At 11:15 a. m., a firing squad will present a salute at the Servicemen's Memorial at Londonderry Intermediate School.

Graves Are Marked

In the event of rain, all outdoor activities will be cancelled. However, memorial services will be conducted in the high school auditorium at 10 a. m.

Graves of all veterans in the Cooks Mills, Pala Alto and Porter cemeteries will be decorated with flags by John J. Korn and Floyd E. Mason. Hyndman and Lybarger Lutheran cemeteries will be decorated by Harlan E. Porter and Kenneth J. Minnick.

Harry T. Ritchey is parade chairman and Robert W. Bryant will be in charge of the firing squad. Paul A. Evans and Earl J. Leap Jr. are buglers.

An auxiliary sponsored festival will be held at the post home during the remainder of the day.

35 Kindergarten Children Take First Train Ride

KEYSER—Thirty-five children from the Keyser kindergarten recently journeyed to Piedmont on a B&O passenger train as one of many out-of-classroom experiences planned by their teachers. Mrs. Mattie Droppelman and Mrs. Linda Heare.

Mothers assisting with the trip, which marked the first train ride for many, were: Mrs. Ruby Pfeiffer, Mrs. Marion Grace, Mrs. Jacqueline Gustafson, and Mrs. Helen Shank.

Under the direction of Mrs. Dorothy Witherow, transportation chairman, the children were brought back to their classroom in Keyser by Mrs. Louise Arnold, Mrs. Phyllis McNeill, Mrs. Betty Rizer, Mrs. Constance Carlson, Mrs. Charlotte Barger, Mrs. William Dunham, Mrs. Alfred Howard, and Fred W. Ervin.

In another outing both classes were guests of Oscar H. Gustafson, professor of agriculture, at Potomac State College farm. In simple terms he explained processing of milk and demonstrated the use of the milking machine.

Proving extremely popular with the children were the opportuni-

Lab School Is Planned

The Baltimore Conference will sponsor a Laboratory School at Cresaptown Methodist Church, June 23 to June 26.

Teachers will observe skilled instructors at work with boys and girls, and have an opportunity to help plan for each session.

The first session for teachers of all age groups will be held June 23 from 7 to 9 p. m. The Children's Division daily schedule will be run from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. with one-and-one-quarter hours with the boys and girls, and three hours with the teachers for evaluation, planning and study.

The Junior High Department will meet for dinner at 6:15 p. m. and classes to 10 p. m., except Sunday, which will be from 7 to 9 p. m.

Director of the school will be Miss Lucy Bickel, Baltimore Conference director of children's work. Instructors are: Nursery, Mrs. Elizabeth Bunge, Baltimore; kindergarten, Mrs. G. M. Pulliam, Nashville; primary, Mrs. Elsie England, Baltimore; junior, Mrs. Celeste Rober, Baltimore; junior high, Robert Kendall, Baltimore, and Stanley Knox, Washington.

It will be necessary to have registrations for each school at least three weeks in advance of the opening date in order that adequate plans may be made.

Demos Win In Beckley

BECKLEY, W. Va. (UPI) — Democrats made an unofficial clean sweep of Beckley's municipal election Tuesday in what was considered a light turnout of the city's registered voters.

John Smith, incumbent Democratic councilman, defeated Robert Thomson Jr. 3,696 to 1,992 for mayor and will take office July 1.

Officials said only an estimated 46 per cent of the city's 12,000 registered voters went to the polls.

Democratic councilmen elected were Dr. Charles Merritt and J. F. Larrick, councilmen at large. H. E. Melton, John H. McCulloch, A. A. Rose, Charles E. Parsons and Arvel Ellison.

Outgoing Mayor Cecil L. Miller, running for councilman at large on the GOP ticket, tallied 1,985 votes and was third behind Larrick, who had 3,303.

W. Va. May End Year With Surplus

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI) — State Finance and Administration Commissioner Truman E. Gore said Tuesday a revenue project shows that West Virginia will probably end the fiscal year with $3,325,406 in surplus funds.

At the end of the 1963 Legislature, the State Board of Public Works estimated the surplus at about $5.2 million. Since then, the board has released about $1.8 million for various projects.

The final Board of Public Works revenue estimate totaled $146,465,000. Gore saw the gross sales tax collections finishing $1,193,371 ahead of estimates and inheritance tax collections $1,019,324 above estimates.

Gore said the consumers sales tax was $32,522 short of estimates.

Local Men Take Part In U.S.-French Exercise

Carter L. Rice, son of Mrs. Ralph J. Rice, RD 1, city, and Fred J. Bell, son of Mrs. Florence L. Davis, 220 Fulton Street, took part in a joint United States-French military exercise in the Mediterranean early this month.

Seaman Rice served aboard the guided missile cruiser USS Canberra and Seaman Bell was aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Enterprise in the exercise dubbed "Fair Game."

W. Va. Highway Deaths Decline

CHICAGO (UPI) — A report by the National Safety Council Tuesday showed that West Virginia had the largest decrease in traffic deaths in the nation during the first four months of this year.

The council said the Mountain State had a 26 per cent decline in traffic fatalities followed by New Mexico with a 23 per cent drop.

The War for the Union 1861-65 in Pictures

No. 274 While "Fighting Joe" Hooker was having deep trouble getting any fighting out of his new command, the Union Army of Potomac, "Fighting Joe" Wheeler was living up to the name inspiring. In February 1863 Wheeler was a major general, C.S.A., at the age of 26, the recipient of glowing thanks from the Confederate Congress for his latest feat of arms. Followed by 2,000 of his cavalrymen (whom he had trained to fight equally well as foot soldiers), Wheeler charged 50 miles completely around W. S. Rosecrans' army of 50,000 in Tennessee. He destroyed Rosecrans' supply trains, and halted Rosecrans' advance south until the 600 wagon loads of vital materiel could be replaced. Meanwhile, Wheeler continued his depredations.

"That rooster knows only one word: charge!" Wheeler officers said. Both his stature (five feet, five inches, 120 pounds) and redoubtable courage suggested his men's name for him: "Banty Rooster." Three wounds didn't stop Wheeler from "fighting" Yankees from hell to yonder and then some more," as his aroused men said.

Further details of Wheeler's spectacular career here later.

The War for the Union 1861-65 in Pictures

No. 275 One sequel to the daring exploit of the 19-year-old Col. Charles Rivers Ellet in taking the USS Queen of the West past the batteries of Vicksburg to attack a Rebel steamer at the wharf there, was a celebrated hoax. David D. Porter, commander of gunboats for Admiral Farragut, was inspired to have a dummy ironclad built. Naval carpenters completed it in less than a day.

As Porter later described the craft, it was "a raft of logs, 300 feet long." Sundry wooden guns protruded from a form'dable-looking log casement. Two huge sidewheel housings gave it the appearance of having powerful propulsion. Black smoke poured from tar and oakum smudgepots up stacks (made of hogsheds) to further this illusion. The only genuine articles aboard were two old boats which hung at davits, and the Stars and Stripes flag of the Union which flew at the stern. At the bow was a banner emblazoned with skull and crossbones. Incidentally, signs reading "Deluded People, Cave In!" were painted on both the fake wheelhouses.

The fake was towed at midnight to near Vicksburg and set floating downstream. Batteries fired furiously at the craft, wasting many rounds of their precious ammunition. Confederates working to salvage a stranded Union gunboat jumped to the conclusion the approaching craft was on a rescue mission and fled. The raft passed Vicksburg into the hands of Yankees down river.

Naturally, when Rebels heard of the hoax through Union newspapers, they were furious.

Navy Approves Lease Renewal On McKaig's Hill

The Navy has approved a one-year renewal of its lease of 9.1 acres of county-owned land where the Navy-Marine Corps Reserve Training Center is located on McKaig's Hill.

For $1 the tract will be leased for one year from July 1, 1963 through June 30, 1964. The lease has been in effect since November 1, 1947.

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday approved the sale of Lots 23, 24 and 25 of Block 2, Hoomewood Addition, to Mrs. Earl W. Dolly, RFD 1, Hoomewood Addition, for $120.

John Jeffries, probation officer of Juvenile Court, notified the county commissioners that Carol Kay Tichnell, who has been working as a clerk-stenographer in Juvenile Court, is resigning and asked that a successor be named.

Goldberg, Kennedy To Speak In W. Va.

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI) — Supreme Court Justice Arthur Goldberg will join Attorney General Robert Kennedy among speakers at West Virginia Statehood day ceremonies at the Statehouse June 20.

Gov. W. W. Barron made the announcement Tuesday, after announcing several days ago that Kennedy would be present.

Goldberg, former secretary of labor, was appointed by President Kennedy to the Supreme Court.

Charleston Mayor John Shanklin is to head up an outdoor news conference on the plaza of the old Federal Building at which various officials will outline activities planned for the statehood observance.

The mayor and others participating are to wear period costumes for the news conference.

Office Will Be Closed

The local office of State Department of Education Division of Vocational Rehabilitation at the County Building, Union Street, will be closed the week of June 3-7 while John M. Coburn, counselor, attends a conference at Salisbury, Md.

Jobless Picture Is Brighter

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI) — The unemployment picture in various areas of West Virginia took on a brighter look during April.

The State Department of Employment Security said joblessness in the Parkersburg, Welch, Bluefield, and Montgomery - Oak Hill areas declined from February to April. However, Martinsburg showed a 23 per cent gain in unemployment since October.

Parkersburg showed a decline in joblessness of 24.5 per cent while employment increased from 32,830 to 34,000.

Bluefield posted the greatest decline, 34.5 with the number of jobs up from 16,970 to 17,550 for the two month period.

The Montgomery - Oak Hill and Welch areas had decreases of 2.8 and 2.6 respectively.

The report on Martinsburg showed that the labor force also was fewer by 11.2 per cent from October.

Air Force Unit Seeks Enlistments

A representative of the 9204th Air Force Reserve Recovery Squadron, Johnstown, will be at the local Air Force recruiting office from 3 until 8 p. m. to interview applicants who may be qualified for enlistment in the organization.

Lt. Col. Frank P. Cummins, Commander of the 9204th said vacancies exist for personnel with experience as Air Policemen, administrative specialists, aircraft maintenance technicians, supply and procurement specialists, medical specialists and in civil engineering and communications.

Further information may be obtained by calling the local recruiting office. Interested persons unable to visit the office today may write to the 9204th, 422 Lincoln Street, Johnstown.

Centennial Train To Be Christened

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI) — Mrs. W. W. Barron, wife of the governor, will christen the blue and white, nine-car West Virginia Centennial train here Thursday at 5 p. m. before it departs for Washington for its dedication Friday.

Members of the state's congressional delegation, the presidents of six railroads serving West Virginia, and others officials are to participate in the Washington ceremony.

Following the dedication, the train will begin a three - month tour of West Virginia and adjacent areas with its various exhibits.

Dr. Adam Baer Is Reappointed

Dr. Adam Baer, Frostburg, has been reappointed to a three-year term on the State Board of Chiropractic Examiners, according to an announcement from the office of Gov. J. Millard Tawes. A number of appointments were made just before Gov. Tawes left for a trip to Europe.

Dr. Baer is also chairman of the board of trustees of the Allegany County Library.

Sixty per cent of all manufacturing jobs are in the New England, Middle Atlantic and East North Central States, the Labor Department reports.

Power Behind Iran's Throne

It is entirely appropriate that former Iranian Princess Soraya's story of how she engineered the coup d'etat in 1953 that overthrew Prime Minister Mossadeq should be revealed in a U. S. women's magazine. Most of its readers undoubtedly believe they are the power behind their own family kingdoms.

Princess Soraya reports that she urged the reluctant Shah to contact an exiled general to upset the Teheran leftist government that was playing cozy with the Soviet Union. When the Shah objected by asking: "Whoever heard of a monarch plotting against his own government?" she replied, "You must be the first one to do so."

The coup succeeded, and the threat by President Eisenhower that U. S. aid would be cut off from Iran was thwarted.

Even while accepting the truth of Soraya's version, a skeptic may wonder whether the Shah's decision to divorce the princess for failure to produce a son as an heir may not have stemmed somewhat from fear of the woman's power. If she could inspire the overthrow of Mossadeq, perhaps she could do the same to her husband.

After all, one success could lead to another.

Hope For A Tax Change

The progressive income tax has become a monstrosity. Because it is tacitly recognized as such, our politicians who are alive to the necessity of keeping our productive system going in spite of the tax code's punitive rates have had the common sense to riddle it with the so-called "loopholes." In fact, the exceptions to the progressive rates have become so voluminous that the International Revenue Code of 1954, along with its amendments, covers some 1,200 pages of text. Even tax lawyers get the blind staggers when they try to read it.

The loopholes are necessary because, as the rates rise bracket-by-bracket to top off half the income of a man who is now earning a rather poor salary reckoned in 1913, or pre-World War I dollars, there would be no incentive to work more than two-thirds of the year if legal "tax avoidance" were impossible. The idea of legalized tax avoidance disturbs most people's sense of equity—but the families in the lowest tax brackets would be the most angry of all if they got no tax avoiding exemptions.

Since it is impossible, politically, to "reform" the progressive tax system, Chairman Wilbur Mills of the House of Representatives' Ways and Means Committee has been casting about for a method of moving toward a flat, or proportional, tax which would treat every man's income dollars more or less alike. Naturally, no politician would dare to advocate a completely uniform rate of, say, 20 or 25 per cent of every man's income. The reason for this is that indirect taxation—hidden sales taxes, excise taxes and so on—is "retrogressive" in its effect on the poor, who pay out a higher proportion of their income for indirect levies than the rich. All the same, the politicians seem willing for the first time in a generation to take much of the "progression" out of the income tax once a few basic exemptions have been made for people in the lowest brackets.

With tax philosophy in a state of flux, the Ways and Means Committee is proving actually hospitable to people who come to it with ideas. This is something new. A Yankee friend of mine, Mr. E. S. Hall, of Farmington, Connecticut, has been trying for years to make himself heard in Congress about his particular tax proposal. He now reports that the committee is at least deferential to him this year, which is something astonishing in his experience.

Mr. Hall believes that a flat, or a proportional, tax at a rate running to around 20 per cent of all income would balance the budget even under Cold War circumstances. But he doesn't think that such a tax could be sold to a majority of people as coming under the head of justice. To make a flat levy on incomes palatable to the poor as well as to the rich, Mr. Hall would link a voluntary profit sharing scheme to any flat tax bill which the Ways and Means Committee might be persuaded to support.

Briefly, Mr. Hall would provide a good measure of tax exemption to any corporation which would volunteer to institute a profit sharing plan for its workers. Since most corporations would stand to save more on the remitted corporate profits taxes than they would have to pay out in profits to workers, Mr. Hall thinks that voluntary acceptance of the scheme could be virtually universalized among businessmen.

To provide a basis for the proper sharing of profits, Mr. Hall would have businesses qualify for corporate tax exemption by agreeing to pay dividends on the money invested in payrolls at the same rate that they are paid on the stock. For companies that retain a good part of their earnings, Mr. Hall would insist that workers be credited with their proportional share in the title to same.

By such voluntary devices Mr. Hall would make a flat income tax popular both with the unions and the heads of corporations. Is there any chance that such a change in our tax laws will be considered by Congress? Mr. Hall has been preaching the gospel in the wilderness for years without getting anywhere, but this year he has some hopes. His proposed bill has already been introduced by Congressman Bruce Alger of Texas, which at least guarantees that it is on paper to be read.

Back To The Old Frontier

Farm Prices And Supports: Grotesque Mess

WASHINGTON

In the chilly aftermath of the wheat referendum, everyone seems to be having second thoughts. Farm state Republicans and their allies of the Farm Bureau and their allies of the Farm Bureau are belatedly but visibly worried about having "freed" the wheat farmers at a probable cost of $1.10 to $1.20 wheat and severe disruption of the markets in some other agricultural products as well.

The Kennedy administration, meanwhile, is visibly worried about being too coldly negative. The President will certainly veto any bill returning to the old, thoroughly vicious system of high price supports without production controls. Nonetheless, it is a bit too coldly logical to say nothing to the wheat farmers except:

"You've made your bed; now lie in it, even if it means $1.10 wheat."

Hence consideration is being given to more positive approaches. The one most discussed is an indication of willingness to take a wheat bill based on the principles of Sen. Herman Talmadge's cotton bill. Whether this will be the final decision remains to be seen. But it is certainly worth examining the Talmadge bill principles. There are two of them:

First, that those who need help ought to get it, but no one else ought to get it.

Second, that the help ought to be given in a way that keeps the U. S. government out of the commodity management business.

If there is any excuse at all for government aid to America's immensely over-productive agriculture, the excuse is social and biological. Farmers able to make the very large capital investments needed for mechanized, large-scale farming ought either to accept the prices of the market place or take their capital someplace else. But millions of farmers are not in this happy position; and they constitute the social-biological problem.

The people who want to get rid of production controls and abandon farm price supports really want to drive this huge group of under-capitalized, small scale farmers off the farms. This was the program of former Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson, in whose pious ministry the grotesque farm mess nearly quadrupled both in size and in cost. The worst criticism of Benson is that he never had the guts to say that he wanted the smaller, less efficient farmers to go to the wall.

Meanwhile, there are strong special and biological arguments against letting millions of the smaller American farmers go to the wall. The old pattern of our rural life has its own value. Furthermore, it is an unexplained fact of history—but an undoubted fact despite its mystery—that great nations have always tended to decline when independent farmers were driven out by industrial farming.

By Joseph Alsop

Thus the Talmadge cotton bill defines the under-capitalized small scale producers as those who need help. It gives this group of farmers fairly generous help, in the form of high production payments. It provides much lower production payments to the large producers—although here Sen. Talmadge has unwisely compromised by removing his former $25,000 ceiling on the payment permissible to any individual cotton producer.

The justification for this kind of selectivity in helping the cotton

NUCLEAR WAR—A book, "Military Strategy," written by 15 of Russia's most prominent military figures, has been translated into English. For the first time in over 30 years Americans can learn what the Russians think about militarily—particularly their views on nuclear war.

American thinking about nuclear war, its offensive and defensive concepts of strategy, are well known. The Pentagon relies heavily on a "second strike" capability—the ability to demolish an enemy even after he has initiated a nuclear holocaust. U. S. strategists also favor a "no cities" policy, under which the enemy's military targets rather than its civilian populations would be the primary objectives.

The Russian experts, on the other hand, put great weight on their first strike capability, and they say nothing about any strategy that contemplates sparing American cities. They also hold that an initial small-scale nuclear war would quickly "escalate" into an all-out attack. And if they really believe that, it will come about, should a nuclear war ever break out, for either side has the power to dictate the "size" of a nuclear war.

YOO-HOO!—A large group of Girl Scouts from Rep. Leo O'Brien's home town of Albany, N. Y., visited him at the Capitol. He proudly took them on a tour of the buildings and finally had them seated in the House gallery. Then he told them: "I'm going down to the House floor now. When I get there I'll stand up and wave to you."

However, when he entered the chamber, he was asked by Speaker John McCormack to preside over the session, an honor he could not refuse. Also, likewise, with all of his colleagues, the press and the galleries looking at him he couldn't very well wave to his Girl Scout troop.

After some minutes, the group of girls rose in a body and vigorously waved at him, anyway. All he could do was to croak a finger in response. Lamented the ebullient Irishman: "I felt like a stuffed shirt."

President Getting Ready To Bounce His Democratic National Chairman

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—President Kennedy expects to do something shortly about the phalanx of Catholics directing his political operations. It is beginning to irk Southern and Midwest critics. They point out that the chairman of the Democratic National Committee, John Bailey; his vice chairman, Gov. Pat Brown of California; the other vice chairman, Mayor Robert Wagner of New York, are all Catholics.

Some of them are excellent men. However, add this lineup to the fact that the Democratic leader of the Senate, Mike Mansfield; and the Speaker of the House, John McCormack, are also Catholic, and you have a solid block of Catholic politicians which can be embarrassing to a Catholic President.

Democratic precedent in the past led to the picking of a Catholic national chairman because the President was Protestant. The last Protestant Democratic Chairman was Homer Cummings of Connecticut who served over thirty years ago. But with a Catholic President in the White House, JFK is headed for increasing criticism for putting up a solid political phalanx of Catholics around him.

This is why you can expect to see Chairman John Bailey exit soon. When the Bailey family were revealed to have made $20,000 on a $5,000 investment in a Connecticut insurance deal, the President was not happy.

Bailey's daughter, 18-year-old son and his son-in-law are important stockholders in an insurance firm, which just after Abe Ribicoff became governor of Connecticut, with a generous assist from Bailey, got a nice contract with the state of Connecticut. Total estimated commissions on state business: $600,000.

Republicans who recall how Eisenhower bounced his Republican national chairman, Wesley Roberts, when he got embroiled in a Kansas lobbying deal, are hoping that Kennedy will keep Bailey. He'll be a wonderful target.

But you can write it down that Mr. Bailey will go, thus paving the way for a Protestant Democratic chairman for the first time in thirty years.

Scouting For Hoffa

When Admiral Arleigh Burke, chairman of the Capital Boy Scout Campaign Fund received a gift of $366,000 from Jimmy Hoffa and the Teamsters for a new building, Burke got a phone call from Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy.

"What are you going to do," asked Kennedy, "call the new building the 'Hoffa Good Scout Building'?"

"Maybe we should call it the 'Scouting For Hoffa Building,'" Burke replied to the Attorney General who has been scouting for Hoffa with grand juries.

Later in reporting the conversation to a Boy Scout meeting, Admiral Burke quipped, "Well, Hoffa loaf is better than none."

McNamara Junket

Hard working Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara, a stickler about misusing military planes, violated his own rules the other day and ordered a special plane to fly his wife and himself to Hawaii for three days in the sun.

He had been scheduled to fly to Hawaii on a Sunday with General Maxwell Taylor, White House aide McGeorge Bundy, Assistant Secretary of Defense Paul Nitze, and others for a Monday morning conference.

McNamara had been putting in long hours and aides urged him to get away early for a few days' rest. He resisted the idea until late Thursday afternoon, then ordered a jet transport to prepare to leave for Hawaii, rounded up his wife, picked up a couple of GI hitch-hikers and roared off into the sunset.

The plane came back to pick up

MADRID, Spain — A lovely ciudad, this Madrid. It is beautiful and yet remote, asking love but never giving it, pleading for understanding but never listening. Madrid is 2,200,000 people. It is tall skyscrapers, an empty palace, small cars, buzzing motorcycles, tile roofs, millions of roses, Franco, a pale bedspread of a sky with scattered pillows, big parks, trees lighted with green floodlights at night, fireworks, bullfights and holy days.

It is the biggest city in Spain, and one of the newest. It sits on a marbled sandy plain in the center of the country like a Moorish mirage. The boulevards are broad, and the plazas are huge circles, built around statues and fountains and formal gardens. A house without pots of flowers and window boxes is either empty or occupied by non-Madrilenos.

At 1:30, siesta begins and the shops close, the shutters are drawn, and all Madrid goes to bed. At 4:30, the shops reopen until 7:30 and the city comes to life between 9 p.m. and 1 a.m. In Spain every city has an old cathedral, but Madrid is now building its first big one — La Almudena.

The Plaza de Toros is the Yankee Stadium of bullfighting. The corrida begins at 6 p.m. Seats on the shady side are more expensive than on the sunny side. Three matadors fight a total of six bulls in two hours and ten minutes. The object of the corrida is not the kill, but to show man's domination over the animal world.

More than half the population of Spain does not attend bullfights. When a matador does poorly, the crowd whistles. Some one always yells derisively: "Manana sera otro dia" (Tomorrow is another day). Another favorite expression is heard from laborers who are expected to work too hard: "Lo barato es caro" (The cheap is expensive). Some men earn 80 cents a day.

Two months ago, Generalissimo Franco learned that Madrid taxi drivers were paid 60 cents a day, and got a dollar in tips and commissions. Overnight, he doubled the wage to $3.20. Ironically, the other dignitaries while Mr. and Mrs. McNamara enjoyed the Honolulu sunshine.

Note: In the past, McNamara has been just as strict about his own use of Air Force planes as he has in restricting those under himself. Once the weather forced him to call off a skiing vacation in the Rockies. Seeing his disappointment, Air Force aides offered to fly him to Switzerland for a few days of skiing. McNamara turned down the offer.

Optimistic JFK

Lord C Rathorne, who is head of the NATO Parliamentary Conference, called on President Kennedy the other day, escorted by that hurley-burley Midwest Congressman Wayne Hays, D-Ohio, who is an active leader of the NATO Conference. They discussed ways of cementing European cooperation despite the non-cooperation of President de Gaulle.

President Kennedy was careful not to say anything critical of de Gaulle. But he did remark: "We should not let one setback discourage us. I feel confident that the French people are not opposed to accepting Britain into the Common Market and that their government will reconsider its position."

"I hope this can be worked out soon to your satisfaction," the President told Lord Rathorne. "The United States will continue to do everything we can to bring it about."

Late Friend Of Churchill's

Publicity-wise Rep. Mike Feighan, D-Ohio, made it his business to be in the White House photos of President Kennedy signing the bill to make Winston Churchill an honorary citizen of the United States.

However what Kennedy didn't know was that the Cleveland Democrat refused to vote for the Churchill legislation when it came before the House Judiciary Subcommittee.

"I'll have to abstain from voting either way on this," he said, without explaining. Colleagues at the closed-door meeting guessed that Feighan may have been moved by political sentiments not shared by most other Irish-Americans.

But when the Churchill resolution passed the House, Feighan strangely voted "yes." Later he ordered Judiciary Committee aides to get him a black limousine so he could travel to the White House in style for the signing.

Problem Of Fetal Loss Late In Pregnancy

By Theodore R. Van Dellen

for the growing fetus. In addition, the cord was around the neck.

This misfortune occurs occasionally and—reading between the lines—we sense a doubt about whether the physician handled the problem properly. In our opinion, he acted according to standard practice. He "let nature take its course" because interference by inducing labor prematurely may lead to infection or other complications. The exceptions are when a mother has a blood disorder or had a cesarean section previously, and it is safer to be delivered again in this way.

The wisdom of permitting pregnancy to continue after the fetus dies is a question that often arises. Many pressures are put upon the physician to do something about it. But, as we said, it is better to rely upon noninterference and conservative management.

In many instances, the pregnant woman becomes suspicious that not all is well when no movement is felt. These fears often are confirmed when the physician cannot hear the heart tones. But he must be certain because it is a shocking experience to be told in the sixth or seventh month of pregnancy that the baby has expired. As a result, the obstetrician is cautious until there is overwhelming evidence of the loss.

The most frequent cause of this type of fetal loss is lack of oxygen and nourishment due to a disorder of the placenta or the umbilical cord. There are various possibilities. The blood flow from the mother to the placenta or from the placenta to the fetus may be inadequate or blocked completely.

May we suggest to our reader that she take this catastrophe in her stride and try again.

Clarkmen Score Both Runs In 7th; Turbin C-ops 8th, Beats Gum

Coupling two hits with an error and wild throw for two runs in the 7th and final inning, Keyser High School nosed out Mathias High School at Stayman Field, Keyser, by the score of 2-0, and advanced to the finals of the West Virginia Region 4 high school baseball playoffs.

Coach Frederick "Tack" Clark's Golden Tornado earned a shot at Charles Town High School Friday in a game that will determine Region 4's representative in the state championship tournament at Parkersburg June 6-7. The site for the Keyser-Charles Town game is to be announced.

Terry Turbin, Keyser's right-handed ace, hooked up with freshman left-hander Gerald Gum in yesterday's battle and it was a scoreless affair until the 7th when the Hardy countians blew up.

"Rusty" Hamilton doubled to open the 7th for Keyser. Bill Simmons and Rodney Fuller flew to the infield. Billy Dawson singled over the third baseman's head and the throw to the plate was dropped by Mongold as Hamilton scored. Then Mongold threw wildly past third base and Dawson crossed the platter.

Mathias attempted to pull the game out of the fire in the bottom of the 7th but failed when Good struck out with the bases loaded to end the game. With one out, Mongold singled. Sherman fanned. Hamilton made a barehand stop of Gum's hard infield shot but the batter beat it out for a hit. Rich Strawderman drew a pass, loading the bases. Then Turbin struck out Good.

Keyser threatened in the first inning but Payne, attempting to bunt, popped up for the final out with two mates aboard. Turbin wins Eighth.

Turbin held Mathias to three singles, fanned seven and gave up two passes in recording his eighth victory against a single loss.

Gum limited Keyser to four blows, issued three bases on balls and whiffed seven. This loss was his third against seven victories.

Mathias won the Region 4 championship last year by beating Paw Paw and Martinsburg but lost out to Wellsburg, 2-0, in the opening round of the state tournament at Parkersburg.

Yesterday's win was the 11th against two defeats for Keyser. Coach Hoy Dove's team wound up the campaign with an 8-3 mark.

Boyer Brothers Rank Fifth In Batting

NEW YORK (AP)—The Boyer brothers, Ken of the Cardinals and Cleo of the Yankees, rank fifth in their respective leagues among the batting leaders. Kenny, at .331, is hitting four points more than his kid brother.

"For me it's great," said Cleo. "For Kenny, it's probably a so-so year."

Red Sox Whip Yankees, 11-6

Monbouquette Gets 6th Win

BOSTON (UPI)—The Boston Red Sox whaled five New York Yankees for 15 hits Tuesday night to rout the Yankees 11-6 and escort pitcher Bill Monbouquette to his sixth victory.

Striking Boston outfielder Gray Geiger and Lou Clinton each hit two-run homers to more than offset Cleo Boyer's solo homer and a two-run belt by Yankee Tony Kubek.

Geiger was hitting on his eighth successive game with his fifth homer and two singles and was homering in his fourth successive game.

Monbouquette, who needed help from relief ace Dick Radatz in the ninth, gave up an even dozen Yankee hits and all six runs. New York starter Bill Stafford, victim of seven Boston runs including both homers in the 2-13 innings he pitched, was charged with this third defeat.

Indians Top Chicago, End Losing Streak

CHICAGO (UPI)—Joe Adcock speared Nellie Fox' line drive with the bases loaded Tuesday night in the ninth inning with one out to start a double play that enabled the Cleveland Indians to defeat the Chicago White Sox 3-2 and snap a five-game Indian losing streak.

Ted Abernathy, making his first appearance for the Indians, came on to relieve starter and winner Jack Kralick with the bases loaded and threw only two pitches for the White Sox and handed Ray Herbert his first loss at home after five consecutive shutouts at Chicago.

Max Alvis' two-out double in the sixth inning broke a 2-2 tie and drove in Adcock with the winning run.

Left-hander Kralick spaced nine hits and was touched for two runs, both driven in by Herbert, to pick up his third victory in eight decisions.

Vic Davalillo's fourth home run to lead off the sixth knotted the count at 2-2 for Cleveland.

Kralick, Abernathy (9) and Alvis (8) were the winners. Herbert (5-2), HR—Herbert, Davalillo.

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Four members of the Pittsburgh Pirates were honored Tuesday night before their game with the Philadelphia Phillies.

Outfielders Bill Virdon and Roberto Clemente were given gold glove fielding trophies by the Rawlings Sporting Goods Co. Rookie third baseman Bob Bailey was awarded the Sporting News certificate as the minor league player of the year and pitcher Elroy Face was presented with the fireman's trophy as the major league's top relief man.

The awards were for the player's achievements during the 1962 season.

Orioles Down KC For Ninth Straight Win

Al Smith Homers In 4-2 Triumph

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A three-run homer by Al Smith and strong pitching by Robin Roberts carried the American League leading Baltimore Orioles to their ninth straight triumph Tuesday night as they defeated the Kansas City Athletics 4-2.

The victory, Baltimore's 14th in the last 15 games, increased the Orioles lead over second-place New York to 3½ games. The Yankees lost to Boston 11-6.

The Orioles scored four times in the fifth inning against Ted Bowsfield. Luis Aparicio doubled home the first run and Smith wrapped up with his homer after Jerry Adair beat out a hit.

Roberts, whose father died Sunday, remained here to pitch against the A's. He was to fly to Springfield, Ill., Wednesday morning for the funeral.

Roberts shut out the Athletics on two hits over the first seven innings but had to have help in the eighth. Gino Cimoli tripled and scored on a single by Doc Edwards. When Wayne Causey singled with one away Roberts was replaced by Dean Stone. Stu Miller finished the inning.

Miller yielded the A's final run in the ninth on a double by Norm Siebern and a single by Jerry Lumpe.

BALTIMORE (AP)—Jack Nicklaus and Gary Player will play an 18-hole exhibition golf match at Turf Valley Country Club near Baltimore on Aug. 4.

The announcement was made Tuesday by Marty Parks of Turf Valley.

It will be the first competitive appearance in Baltimore for Nicklaus, the National Open and Masters champion. Player has played in the Eastern Open here.

The exhibition is being sponsored by the Baltimore Optimist Club and a local brewery. The proceeds will benefit the Optimist Boys' Work Foundation.

The Dick Tiger-Gene Fullmer middleweight title bout will be staged in Lago, Africa, July 13. Posters already are being printed.

Cubs' Ellsworth Beats Mets, 5-2

NEW YORK (UPI)—Southpaw Dick Ellsworth, owner of the best earned - run-average in the majors, beat the New York Mets for the first time in his career Tuesday night although he needed ninth inning help from relief ace Lindy McDaniel to nail down a 5-2 victory for the Chicago Cubs.

McDaniel took over for Ellsworth after Ron Hunt walked to open the ninth. Jim Hickman's one-out double advanced Hunt to third but the Mets were unable to score.

Ellsworth, a 20-game loser last year, went into Tuesday night's game with a 1.09 earned-run average and although he raised it to 1.22, the 23-year-old left-hander emerged with his sixth victory in nine decisions.

Koufax Posts Fourth Shutout

LA Righthander Beats Braves, 7-0

MILWAUKEE (UPI)—Left-handed Sandy Koufax, the "no-hit" fast ball ace of the Los Angeles Dodgers, got off to the fastest season start in his major league career Tuesday night with his seventh victory and fourth shutout of the year in defeating the Milwaukee Braves 7-0.

After big Frank Howard broke up a superb pitching duel between Koufax and left-hander Denver Lemaster with his ninth home run of the season, the Dodgers went on to shell three Milwaukee relievers for six more runs in the ninth inning.

Koufax took over the National League lead for shutouts and he brought his earned run average to 1.51 for the season. He struck out 15 to bring his season total to 68 and walked just two.

Lemaster, who had worked seven innings, gave up just four hits, but the telling blow was Howard's blast over the rightfield fence in the top of the seventh with the bases empty. Lemaster, whose record is now 2-3 has given up just five earned runs in five starts and has a 1.47 earned run average.

He was lifted for a pinch-batter in the seventh.

Phils' McLish Tames Bucs, 5-1

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Veteran right-hander Cal McLish scattered seven hits and notched his fourth straight decision Tuesday night as the Philadelphia Phillies beat the Pittsburgh Pirates 5-1 in a rain-delayed game.

The 37-year-old McLish, an ex-Pirate, pitched his fourth complete game while raising his season record to 4-2.

A two-run homer to the opposite field by lefty Johnny Callison in the third inning and a three-run burst in the fifth, highlighted by Tony Gonzalez' triple, gave McLish all the firepower he

Receiving Wins Extra Inning Contest, 5-4

Receiving nosed out Shipping by the score of 5-4 in an extra inning Kelly-Springfield Softball League battle yesterday, at Coun-Field.

Harbold's single scored pitcher John Chisholm with the tie-breaking run in the eighth inning.

Chisholm limited Shipping to five hits, accounted for two of his team's five blows while Harry Widdows and Charles Denmark excelled afield. Winters homered and Ed Weaver smacked a two-bagger and was the fielding star for the losers.

SCORE:
Shipping 000 000 45-4 3 2
Receiving 000 002 61-4 3 2
Jones and Jim Albright, John Chisholm and Bobby Stephens.

King And His Court Battle All-Stars To 3-3 Deadlock

Eddie Feigner Strikes Out 18 In Benefit Game

By TED TROXELL

For nine men to beat four at the game of softball should be a cinch, but when the four-man team includes a pitcher named Eddie Feigner that's another story altogether.

Last night at Penn Avenue Field, "King" Eddie Feigner and his Court, world champion four-man softball team, played to a 3-3 tie with the Cumberland All-Stars, a collection of top softball talent from local leagues.

The exhibition game was staged for the benefit of the Cumberland Dapper Dan Little League.

Most of the approximately 1,000 persons in attendance really weren't concerned about the final score. They came to see the celebrated King and his Court perform, and were treated to a highly entertaining show.

Feigner, who can make a softball do just about everything but the bossa nova including the twist, had the All-Star batters striking out on pitches thrown between his legs, while blindfolded, and from ninety feet away at second base.

Since Feigner has only two fielders besides himself—a first baseman and shortstop—any ball hit out of the infield is good for extra bases, which is precisely how the All-Stars obtained their three runs.

They picked up two in the first inning, before the "King" had really warmed up. Solly Emerick walked to lead off the inning, and Jimmy Eckard beat out an infield hit following Glenn Burke's strikeout.

Pete Cecil then rapped one of Feigner's pitches to leftfield. Two runs scored, but Cecil fell between first and second base and was held to a double. Fred Meeks struck out, Al Martin got a broken-bat single, and Donnie Madden fanned to end the inning.

Eighteen of the 21 putouts made by the King and his Court were strikeouts. An unassisted double play by first baseman Al Jackson in the fifth inning ended Feigner's string of consecutive strikeouts at 13. An unaided putout by Jackson at first accounted for the other non-strikeout. Feigner pitched the entire fifth inning blindfolded.

King Feigner, a hefty 200-pounder, is no slouch with a bat in his hand. He drove in battery-mate Bill Kehrer with a single for the Court's first run in the fourth.

They scored again in the fifth when Jackson walked to open the inning and came home when All-Star pitcher Hayden Phillips threw Kehrer's sacrifice bunt into right field.

Kehrer, a giant of a catcher who makes Feigner look small by comparison, suffered a pulled ligament in his leg midway through the game, but stayed behind the plate and batted in every inning but the sixth.

In the top of the seventh with the All-Stars leading 3-2, the barnstorming visitors had Jerry Jones on third with two outs so Kehrer took his turn at bat and came through with a screaming single past third baseman Martin to knot the score at 3-3.

Feigner quickly proceeded to get Martin, Phillips and Emerick on strikeouts in the bottom of the inning to end the game.

Following the game, Feigner put on a special pitching demonstration in which he explained that varying pitching speeds is the secret to much of his success.

Paul Kiern, a member of the Caseys team in the Rocking Chair League, pitched the first four innings for Cumberland, and Phillips worked the final three, giving up seven hits between them.

The All-Stars got five hits off Feigner, including a home run by Meeks in the sixth inning. Feigner was pitching from second base at the time and the ball skipped past him into right field.

This was the third appearance in Cumberland for the outstanding attraction, and arrangements are already being made to have the fabulous King and his Court back next year.

The linescore:
King & Court 000 110 1-3 7 1
All-Stars 000 001 6-5 5 1
"King" Eddie Feigner, Bill Kehrer, Paul Kiern, Hayden Phillips (5) and Jim Shaffer.

Gary Player Ties Nicklaus On Golf Day

DALLAS (UPI) — Gary Player, the National PGA champion from South Africa, sank a 20-foot birdie putt on the final hole Tuesday to finish all even at 68 with National Open champion Jack Nicklaus in their national golf day match.

Player, whose play was somewhat erratic since it included a double bogey in addition to six birdies, and the steady playing Nicklaus fired identical 35-33 nines over the 7,000 Dac Country Club course which will be the site of the National PGA championships July 18-21. Par over the course is 71.

Their scores served as a target for multitudes of golfers throughout the nation who fired their golf day rounds last week in an effort to win a medal signifying they had beaten the winner of Tuesday's match.

There was no playoff since Nicklaus and Player, who had rushed here from Monday's final round of the Memphis Open, had to leave in just as big a hurry for other commitments.

A gallery of 3,000 saw Player drop a 25-foot birdie putt on the ninth green to salvage a front nine tie with Nicklaus.

Shortstops Show Way

NEW YORK (AP) — Normally the lightest hitter on a club is expected to be the shortstop. So who are the leading hitters in the American and National Leagues? Shortstops, of course.

Wayne Causey of the Athletics tops the American League with a .356 average and Dick Groat of the Cardinals leads the National with .351.

Oakland CC Golfers Blank Parsons Team

Oakland Country Club rolled up its second straight golf win on Sunday, shutting out Holly Meadows Country Club of Parsons, 33-0, at Oakland.

All of the Oakland Club two-somes scored 3-0 victories over their Parsons opponents.

The Oakland team's first win came two weeks ago at the expense of Maplehurst Country Club by the score of 27½-14½.

Sunday's summary:
Kreyenbuhl and Potts, Oakland, defeated Hornbeck and Wilhelm, 3-0.

Welch and Bailey, Oakland, defeated Delaney and Louck, 3-0.
Mills and Shively, Oakland, defeated McDonald and Ketterman, 3-0.

Hot Stove League Booster Game Set For Friday Night

13th Season Opens Monday; Loop Has 2 Division Setup

The 13th annual Booster Game Friday night at 7 o'clock at Penn Avenue Field will precede the opening of the Hot Stove Baseball League's regular season which is scheduled to get under way on Monday, June 3.

Friday's contest will be a ten inning affair between the Hots and the Stoves.

The league will operate in two divisions this year and at the close of the campaign there will be a best-of-three inter-division series between the first and second place teams. The finals will also be a best-of-three set.

Each team will play 22 games during the regular campaign, five less than last year. Each club will play the four other teams in its division three times and will meet the five clubs of the other circuit twice.

Managers and their assistants are as follows:

Hots Division
B. P. O. Elks—Carl Phillips and Charles Cubbage, B'nai B'rith—Raymond "Buck" Gephart, B'nai B'rith—Raymond "Buck" Gephart, Lions Club—Sgt. John Daum and Ted Durbin, Kiwanis Club—Bert Lawler and Chauncey Friend, Outdoor Club—James McGee and Vincent Green.

Stoves Division
Cumberland Optimists—Cedric Miller and John Reynolds, Jaycees—Patsy Algieri and William Lindner, Rotary Club—Herman Snoots, Edward Hollen and Bill Powell, Bedford Road Optimists—Robert Ziler and Harold Brode, Salvation Army—Arthur Delozier and Harry Minnick.

Ced Miller, former manager of Bedford Road, and Reynolds will be the co-managers of the Cumberland Optimist Club. Bob Ziler, former leader of the Athletics in the Dapper Dan Little League, takes over the reins at Bedford Road. Brode, an umpire of the Tri-State Association, will be Ziler's aide. Minnick is also a new-comer in the Hot Stove League, having assisted Ziler with the Athletics the last two years.

Howard L. Northcraft, players' agent, announces that 13 boys who have moved here from other communities or did not participate in Little League ball the past two years, have been assigned to the various teams.

Next Week's Schedule

The schedule for next week: Monday, June 3—B. P. O. Elks vs. Lions Club, Mason Road Field at 6 p. m.

Wednesday, June 5—Outdoor Club vs. B'nai B'rith, Mason Road Field, at 6 p. m.

Thursday, June 6—Jaycees vs. Cumberland Optimist Club, Mason Road Field at 6 p. m.

Saturday, June 8—Kiwanis Club vs. Rotary Club, Penn Avenue Field, 6 p. m.; Salvation Army vs. Bedford Road Optimists, Penn Avenue Field, 7:30 p. m.

Starting June 12 the regular schedule will be continued at Penn Avenue Field.

Barrelville Ties For Pen-Mar Lead, Birds Top Maroons

PEN-MAR LITTLE LEAGUE

Standing of The Teams

Team	W	L	Pct.
Barrelville	2	0	1.000
Wellsburg	2	0	1.000
Cresaptown	1	1	.500
LaVale Orioles	1	1	.500
LaVale Maroons	1	2	.333
Tri-State	0	2	.000
Corriganville	0	2	.000

Manager Colen Graham's Barrelville swatsmiths collected 17 hits and scored in every inning in crushing Corriganville by the score of 16-3 yesterday in a Pen-Mar Little League game at Corriganville.

The win enabled Barrelville to tie Wellsburg for first place.

Kenny Blank struck out 13 and yielded eight hits in notching his first win of the campaign.

John Helmick was the "big gun" for the victors with a homer, double and two singles to his credit. Blank had four singles and Beal obtained a two-bagger and two one-base knocks. Joe Wolfe and Harold Howell had two hits each for Corriganville.

In the "Battle of LaVale" the Orioles nosed out the Maroons in a nine-inning contest by the score of 6-5.

Mike O'Donnell's single following a walk to Sam Schwab, an error and Kenny Smith's fielder's choice produced the winning tally in the extra inning tilt.

Jerry Boland, who relieved Kenny Smith in the 7th, got the win while Glenn Twigg was the loser.

O'Donnell and Brad Blough had two hits each for the Birds.

O'Donnell and Smith rapped two-base hits and John Corley lardered a triple. Tommy Cross led the Maroons at the plate with two triples and a single while Twigg belted a round-tripper.

The Cresaptown Eagles-Tri-State Memorial game was postponed until Friday at 6 p. m., on account of wet grounds.

26 To Start In Derby At Epsom Today

EPSOM, England (UPI) — A field of 26 thoroughbreds was listed Tuesday for Wednesday's 184th running of the Derby Stakes over one and one-half miles of the twisting, undulating track at Epsom Downs.

The 41,410 sterling ($115,948) event, which will net the winning owner 35,000 sterling ($98,000) is the third of Britain's five classic horse races, and experts opine it is the most open derby for many years.

One-third of the three-year-old colts in the lineup, each carrying 126 pounds, has yet to win a race, and several owners with unknown horses are hoping for a surprise result similar to that in 1961 when 66 to 1 longshot Posidium caused one of the biggest Derby shocks for several years.

France and Ireland are making a strong challenge for this coveted top prize of English horse racing, together with American race-horse owners, who have four thoroughbreds in the lineup.

Most favored of the American-owned squad is Corpora, the French-trained entry of Robin Scully, a 7 to 1 shot in advance betting behind the French favorite, Marcel Dupre's Relko, who is a firm 4 to 1 shot.

The other American challengers are Credo, owned by Lawrence M. Gelb; Iron Peg, who runs for Harry F. Guggenheim; and Deep Gulf, the entry of John McShain.

The fact that there is no stand-out horse in the field is reflected in the betting, with bookies saying that fans are backing anything and everything. Even the Irish outsider Tarquag, still without a win after six starts, was backed at 200 to 1 by one optimist.

A's Send Bryan To Portland, May Sign Early Wynn

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — The Kansas City Athletics Tuesday sent catcher Bill Bryan to the Portland farm club on a 24-hour recall basis. Bryan was a holdout at the start of the season, threatening to return to farming if he didn't reach a salary agreement.

A's General Manager Pat Friday confirmed that he had been talking with veteran pitcher Early Wynn, now a free agent.

Wynn lacks only one game winning 300, Friday said more talks with Wynn were planned and the hurler indicated the same.

Bryan, 24, of Morgan, Ga., had been in 24 games this season and hit .169 including three homers. He had seven RBIs.

Kansas City said Sammy Esposito, who was hired as a free agent after a long career with the Chicago White Sox, was added to the roster Tuesday night.

Gratton Ford Vacation Tips

- Before cooking in pots over open flames, coat bottom and lower edges of pot with thick paste made of detergent and water. Merely rinse pot later to remove carbon and soot. Saves hours of scouring, elbow grease.
- Mosquito netting isn't enough. Pack an insecticide bomb or two. Spray camping area before you lay out your gear (but keep spray off food and tablecloth).
- Besides stove, pack a handy charcoal cooker that folds and carries like a suitcase (charcoal cooks certain meats best). Use electric starter to start fire fast, and use briquettes. They burn longer, more evenly than plain charcoal. After cooking, dump briquettes in water, dry and re-use for next meal to save on fuel.
- Along with standard nesting camp kits, include plastic cups. Many lips are burned on aluminum cups containing barely hot coffee. Use plastic spoons for tasting hot foods.

Odd Illness Hospitalizes Five Pupils

Columbia Street Will Close Today

Five sixth grade girls from Columbia Street School were admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital yesterday afternoon for treatment of some undetermined illness which apparently made them quite ill.

Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster said that in all about 15 youngsters, all sixth graders at Columbia Street School and all but one girl, became ill, but the others did not require hospitalization.

As a precautionary measure, Mr. Webster announced last night that Columbia Street School will be closed today, giving the youngsters in that North End area a two-day Memorial Day holiday.

The illness was called to attention of authorities when the youngsters fainted.

Food Not Cause

Mr. Webster said it is not attributed to food because several of the girls became ill before lunch and some of them went home for lunch and did not eat in the school cafeteria.

Those admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital were being kept overnight because all had above-normal temperatures. They included Carolyn Cowgill, 11, of 305 Bedford Street; Jeanette Nesbitt, 13, of 208 Fulton Street; Suz Ann Hummel, 12, of 463 Columbia Street; Emma Hall, 12, of 409 Independence Street, and Diana Morton, 11, of 321 Maplewood Lane.

Five others treated and released at Sacred Heart were Norma Jean Shaffer, 11, of 318 Independence Street; Regina Ellifritz, 12, of 449 Henderson Avenue; Walter Herath, 11, of 468 Columbia Street; Elizabeth Steinmetz, 13, of 209 Bedford Street, and Debra Taylor, 12, of 1610 Piedmont Avenue.

Five other girls who reportedly became ill did not require hospitalization.

School Is Checked

Fire and health authorities, accompanied by Mr. Webster, checked the school thoroughly yesterday afternoon but could find no evidence of any leaks or anything else which might have caused the youngsters to become ill.

Oxygen was administered to all of the ill youngsters at the hospital and all responded to treatment. Those still in the hospital last night were in "satisfactory" condition. Doctors say the children were suffering from some form of poisoning of an unknown nature.

A pupil at the school said the children were rehearsing for commencement when the youngsters fainted. Some of the youngsters were uncomfortably warm from the stage lights and thought that was the trouble until the fainting started.

Employment Not Affected By ABL Pact

Yesterday's announcement of a modification to an existing contract with Hercules Powder Company will not affect the employment at Allegany Ballistics Laboratory.

Sen. Daniel B. Brewster and Rep. Charles McC. Mathias announced yesterday the Bureau of Naval Weapons is issuing a modification in the amount of $7,854,597 to an existing contract with Hercules to cover increased funds for research and development on solid propellants.

The work will be done at Allegany Ballistics Laboratory.

However, John C. Foster, plant manager at ABL, said the modification of the contract already had been taken into consideration and it would not affect any employment plans.

Mr. Foster also said it will not change the present status of the rocket research and development program at the plant.

Local Man Arrested In North Carolina

A South Cumberland man was arrested Monday in Charlotte, N. C., for Allegany County authorities on a false pretense charge.

John E. Widdows, 24, of 106 Grand Avenue, has been charged with giving a local used car dealer a bad check for $416 on May 16. Deputy Sheriff Lewis E. Tyree left yesterday afternoon for Charlotte to return Widdows to Cumberland.

Staggers May Seek W. Va. Governorship

At a news conference in Charleston, W. Va., yesterday, Gov. W. W. Barron listed several Democratic possibilities as candidates to succeed him in office.

He noted that Rep. Harley Staggers of Keyser, "is very much interested in the race," and that West Virginia House Speaker Julius W. Singleton, Morgantown; State Attorney General C. Donald Robertson, Clarksburg, and State Commerce Commissioner Hulett C. Smith of Beckley also are possibilities.

Scene Of B&O Train Wreck

This scene shows several of the 38 Baltimore and Ohio Railroad cars which derailed Sunday night one mile east of Swanton. One of the two blocked tracks was opened yesterday morning and the other was expected to be back in operation late last night. Work crews were still at the scene yesterday afternoon and there were still 17 cars to be placed back on the tracks. There was considerable damage to the train, but no one was injured.

Rep. Sickles Will Speak At Westernport

The annual Memorial Day observance in the Tri-Towns will feature a parade and exercises with Rep. Carlton R. Sickles, Congressman-at-large, delivering the address from the platform of the memorial building in Philos Cemetery.

This observance is co-sponsored by Victory Post 155, Westernport, and Kelly-Mansfield Post 52, Piedmont, American Legion posts.

The parade will form and start promptly at 9 a.m. from the Piedmont municipal swimming pool and march to the cemetery via Philos Avenue, Westernport.

The Kelly-Mansfield band will provide music at Philos Cemetery until the parade arrives for memorial services.

Russell McBee will be master of ceremonies. Rev. Frederick W. Simmel, pastor of Mt. Calvary Evangelical Lutheran Church, Westernport, will give the invocation, and Rev. George Pugh, assistant pastor of St. Peter's Catholic Church, will pronounce the benediction.

The color guard and firing squad will participate, and "Taps" will be played.

The Bruce High School band, Boy Scouts, Brownies, Cub Scouts and Columbian Squires will be in the line of march, along with Captain Norris Bruce, the only Spanish-American War veteran in the community.

Members of the two American Legion posts have completed painting the markers and placing new flags on veterans' graves at Philos and St. Peter's cemeteries.

Students Plan Field Trip

Sixth graders at East Side School who have been studying conservation will make a field trip to the Williams Road and Flintstone areas today to view some county conservation practices.

Martin M. Gordon, work unit conservationist for Soil Conservation Service, will lead the field trip and Miss Orpha Clark and Mrs. Sandra D. Grandstaff, teachers will accompany the students.

The proposed route begins at the Stegmaier truck farm on Williams Road, one of the few farms in the county with irrigation. At Consolidated Orchards the students will view cover crops conservation and hear a talk on various soil types.

Field drainage tile will be examined at the Twigg farm in Twiggstown and the tour also includes a visit to Murley's Branch spring.

At Ora Thompson's farm, the sixth graders will see contour strip cropping and proper land use. They will visit the sawmill owned by George Clingerman and if time allows, visit the turkey farm at Piney Plains.

The youngsters will have a picnic lunch along the route.

Church Notices Due Today

Because of the Memorial Day holiday, all church notices intended for publication on the Saturday church page must be delivered to the Times-News office no later than 5 p. m. today.

Red Cross Offers Swim Courses

Allegany County Chapter, American Red Cross, will open its annual summer swim program with classes in junior and senior life saving and for water safety aides June 3 at Constitution Park Pool.

The classes will be held from 6 until 8 p. m. with Lawrence Brehm instructor.

Mrs. Sara Lindsay, executive secretary, said the courses would be of particular interest to youths interested in working at swimming pools and camps during the summer, and also to those interested in becoming instructors.

An instructors course is planned August 12-16 with Harrison (Chuck) Dial of Richmond, instructor. A current Red Cross senior life saving card is necessary to qualify for this course.

The junior life saving course is for youths 12 years of age or seventh grade students and older; the senior class for those 16 years old or 11th grade students and water safety aides, 14 years old, although age 13 will be accepted for outstanding leadership and recommendation by instructor.

Water safety aides must hold a junior or senior life saving card. A minimum of 15 hours instruction is required for junior life saving card and 17 hours for the senior class.

Interested persons may call the local chapter PA 2-1760 for further information or to register for the classes.

Nemacolin District Nominates Officers

James Spofford was nominated for chairman of Nemacolin Trail District of Potomac Council, Boy Scouts of America, at a meeting last night at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Walter Maxey was nominated for district commissioner, and nominations for committee members at large included Albert Cedel, Frank Deremer, Joseph Monahan, Leonard Schwab, Elmo Channell, Robert Zimmer, W. G. Reissig and C. R. Sine.

Keyser Library Must Prove Tax Exemption

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—State Atty. Gen. C. Donald Robertson said Tuesday a library in Keyser would be exempt from taxation only if it can show that it falls "within the tax exemption category of public libraries."

The opinion was written for Mineral County Prosecutor C. Reeves Taylor who said the Keyser-Mineral County Library Association received from a local bank building, and the right to use the remainder for a $1 annual rent, provided it pay all taxes on the building.

Robertson said if tax exemption is granted it "is not effective to satisfy taxes assessed upon the property while it was in a non-exempt status."

He said it is assumed that the association and the bank is subject to taxation as "all doubt be resolved in favor of the state." Robertson said the property owner who claims such an exemption "must carry the burden of clearly showing he is 'entitled to such an exemption.'"

He noted that the Constitution provides for equal and uniform taxation but there are certain exceptions such as "property used for educational, literary, scientific" purposes.

Corriganville Plans Service

Memorial Day services will be conducted tomorrow at 10 a. m. in Corriganville, sponsored by the Lighting and Improvement Association of the community.

Guest speaker will be G. Louis (Lou) Baker, local radio sports announcer.

The program will be held at the honor roll in the yard of Corriganville School. Rev. Richard E. Chambers, pastor of Corriganville Methodist Church, and Rev. John E. Zinn, pastor of Corriganville United Church of Christ, will offer prayers at the service.

Several selections will be presented by the Mt. Savage High School Band and the drill team of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post in Mt. Savage, will participate. "Taps" will be blown by James Garlitz and Ronald Hensel.

Milberg To Graduate

Jeffrey Milberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Milberg, National Highway, LaVale, will be graduated from Perkiomen School, Pennsylvania, on Sunday.

Driver, 39, Has Heart Attack, Dies At Wheel

Vernon Northcraft Owned Restaurant

Vernon Lee Northcraft, 39, an employee of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company and local restaurant operator, suffered a fatal heart attack yesterday afternoon while driving his car on Route 51 near Cumberland.

Mr. Northcraft, who resided at 162 Baltimore Street, was pronounced dead on arrival at Memorial Hospital at 4:10 p. m.

The deputy medical examiner's office said Mr. Northcraft suffered the fatal attack before his car left the Oldtown Road and struck a tree. The accident occurred at the intersection of Oldtown Road and the Mexico Farms Road.

Cpl. John F. Browning and Trooper Richard Brown, who investigated the accident, said a witness saw the Northcraft car traveling east at a slow rate of speed with the driver slumped over the wheel. The car ran off the right side of the highway and struck a tree, according to the witness.

Mr. Northcraft was employed as a shipping clerk at the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company and also operated Vern's Restaurant on Baltimore Street. He also was treasurer of the Maryland-Federal Retail Clerks Credit Union.

He was a member of East Gate Lodge, AF & AM; Cumberland Lions Club; Cumberland Lodge 63, BPO Elks, and was a member of the provost guard in Ali Ghan Shrine.

Mr. Northcraft was born in Akron, Ohio, a son of Elmer V. Northcraft and the late Gertrude (Brockey) Northcraft.

Also surviving are two children, Susan L. and Stephen L. Northcraft, both of Cumberland; a brother, Galen M. Northcraft, Chaneyville, Pa., and a sister, Mrs. Boyd Bussard, Clearfield, Pa.

The body is at the Hafer Funeral Home.

Judge Gives Verdict For Defendant

Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris yesterday relieved an Allegany County Circuit Court jury of its responsibility when he granted defense motions for a directed verdict for the defendant on all three issues in a dispute involving the will of a 66-year-old Westernport woman who died last August 17.

The case yesterday involved the will of Mrs. Levenia Coffman, who was a 66-year-old resident of 142 Main Street, Westernport, when she died last August.

Her two daughters, Mrs. Pauline Thompson of Baltimore and Mrs. Eleanor Swick of Westernport, were plaintiffs in the case. The defendant was their brother, Charles Coffman, McCoolle, executor of his mother's estate.

The first issue was whether undue influence was exerted in the drawing up of Mrs. Coffman's will dated July 27, 1962. Judge Harris decided there was not.

The second issue was whether Mrs. Coffman was mentally competent at the time the will of July 27 was drawn. Judge Harris, after hearing the testimony of Dr. Paul Wilson, her attending physician, decided that Mrs. Coffman was mentally competent.

Finally, Judge Harris ruled that the July 27 will was the last will and testament of Mrs. Coffman.

Earl E. Mangas was attorney for the plaintiffs while Horace P. Whitworth Jr. represented the defendant.

Meeting Canceled

The Queen City Kings Barber Shop Chorus has canceled its regular meeting scheduled Friday night because of the Memorial Day holiday. The next meeting will be June 7 at 7:30 p. m., at City Hall auditorium, according to J. E. Sell, president.

Allegany Annual Honors Mrs. Mann, Class Adviser

Allegany High School's yearbook, the Allegewi, utilizing as its theme the diamond anniversary of the school, has been distributed to the student body, according to Dr. W. Ardell Haines, principal.

This is the 75th graduating class of Allegany and that is the reason for the diamond emphasis. The yearbook was dedicated to Mrs. Geraldine Gaston Mann, tenth grade English teacher and adviser to the Class of 1963. It was distributed last week.

Miss Carol Petry served as editor of the yearbook and Howard Schwartz was its business manager. Miss Betsy Ross Rankin was the faculty adviser.

As its gift to the school, the Allegany senior class is providing the funds for the purchase of a 54-volume set of the Great Books as published by Encyclopedia Britannica. This will be placed in the school library for use by all future students.

The class prom is scheduled for Friday, June 7, and will be entitled "The Diamond Cotillion." Commencement night for this 75th graduating class will be Wednesday, June 12.

Bids Sought On School In North End

The Allegany County Board of Education is advertising today for bids for the proposed new junior high school in the North End which will relieve congestion in Allegany High School.

Bids will be received by the Board of Education until 4 p. m. Thursday, June 27.

Architect for the project, expected to cost in the neighborhood of $1,700,000, is the Silver Spring firm of Johannes and Murray.

The school will be built on a 25-acre tract including the county garage property at the end of Franklin Street. The garage is being moved to land near Cresap town donated by Celanese.

This new school, for seventh and eighth graders, will accommodate between 800 and 1,000 pupils. It will include about 40 teaching stations, a gymnasium, cafeteria, kitchen, industrial arts, administration, music and art rooms, guidance and conference rooms.

Yesterday the Board of County Commissioners received a letter from Oberlin T. Chaney, president of the Cresaptown Community Council, in which he expressed a hope that the county commissioners would plan to beautify the new garage at the edge of Cresaptown to make it attractive as well as functional.

"Our community certainly wants to cooperate with the county in every possible way to improve the services and the administration of these services," Mr. Chaney wrote. "Therefore, we are in accord with your desire to locate your garage near the entrance to our town. However, we hope that you are planning a building which will enhance the beauty of the place where it is located and will continue to be a project of which we all are very proud," he concluded.

The Cumberland-LaVale unit has adopted the Cancer Society as its project and prepares surgical dressings for the local chapter as needed.

The board accepted Mrs. Flosie Thompson, Rawlings, as a new member. Mrs. Thompson was a volunteer in the campaign, working in the office and in the house-to-house canvass.

Mrs. Roeder gave an evaluation of the recent campaign and conducted a discussion of plans for the drive next year.

Governor Urges Bell Ringing On July 4

will participate in a nationwide bell-ringing movement July 4 to celebrate American Independence Day.

Gov. Tawes called on Marylanders "to rekindle our dedication to democratic institutions" by "ringing of bells from our public buildings, churches and schools."

Plans call for bells to ring throughout the country for two minutes beginning at 2 p. m. EDT. A committee composed of W. T. Loy of Hagerstown, Oliver Watkins, Maryland commander of the American Legion, and Mrs. Elliott C. Lovett of Chevy Chase was appointed by Tawes to make arrangements for the bell ringing.

Winchester Rd. Traffic Lights In Operation

New Signals Help To Speed Traffic

New traffic lights at U. S. 40 and Winchester Road at the western end of LaVale are working well and have speeded the flow of traffic, John D. Bushby, State Roads Commission district engineer, reported yesterday.

Mr. Bushby said the lights went into operation Saturday and that he is "rather well pleased" with the improvement in the flow of traffic.

Traffic volume at the busy intersection still causes some unavoidable delays, he said, but this was expected.

The new signals are coordinated with previously existing lights at the entrance to LaVale Plaza Shopping Center a few hundred feet west.

When traffic is moving on U. S. 40, exit traffic from the shopping center and from Winchester Road is halted. Both sets of lights function on demand as recorded by treadles which are tripped by traffic approaching from the shopping center or from Winchester Road.

A right turn from the eastbound lane of Route 40 onto Winchester Road is permitted at all times. Mr. Bushby said some drivers have been hesitating at the intersection when the lights change, even though the lights are some distance from the right-turn lane and are not intended to control that lane.

Beall To Speak At Services In Lonaconing

Del. J. Glenn Beall Jr. will be the principal speaker at Memorial Day services tomorrow night in Lonaconing.

The service is being sponsored jointly by Alvin C. Neat Post 5280, VFW, and American Legion Post 92.

The program will begin at 7:30 p. m. and will be held at the Soldiers' Monument. Mayor-elect Dewey Burns will serve as master of ceremonies.

The opening prayer will be offered by Rev. George Loar, pastor of Lonaconing Methodist Church, and the closing prayer by Rev. Paul Byrnes, visiting priest at St. Mary's Catholic Church.

Musical selections will be presented by the Lonaconing City Band and Bobby Nolan will blow taps. Groups taking part in the program should assemble at the VFW house at 7 p. m.

Austin Goodwin is chairman of the program, assisted by Ernest Thrasher, commander of the VFW post, and James Burt, commander of the American Legion post.

Twigg Explains Objections

Carl Twigg of Mill Road, who appeared at a public hearing Monday night before the Allegany County Sanitary Commission concerning proposed creation of a Bedford Road Sanitary District, amplified his views on the subject yesterday.

Mr. Twigg said he is not necessarily opposed to any and all such plans, but that he has certain reservations about the specific plan on which the hearing was held.

He said a $98-a-year cost figure which he used at the hearing is not what the plan would cost him, but what it would cost a homeowner with property of 100 front feet and assessed at $6,000. He chose this as a probable average, and said the cost is too high.

Mr. Twigg also noted yesterday that many people in the area which would be included in the proposed sanitary district are elderly persons on fixed incomes, and that such an added living cost would work an extreme hardship on some of them.

The sanitary commission is expected to make a decision on the proposal Friday. If he commission approves it, objections could appeal the decision to the Allegany County Commissioners.

Charges Filed In Gun Theft

A Frostburg youth accused of breaking a window in a store in Frostburg and stealing a "tommy-gun" has been charged with malicious destruction of property and grand larceny.

The youth, John M. Ferree, 17, was released yesterday on $200 bond after a hearing before Magistrate Leslie J. Clark.

Frostburg police arrested Ferree last weekend and learned the gun had been "pawed" in a Baltimore shop.

Ferree also is reportedly AWOL from the Marine Corps. Juvenile Court waived jurisdiction in the case which also is being investigated by County Investigator William F. Baker.
